14. Trade union representatives

referenced by :

- 1) In this section, "representative trade union" means a registered trade union, or two or more registered trade unions acting jointly, that have as members the majority of the employees employed by an employer in a workplace.
- 2) In any workplace in which at least 10 members of a representative trade union are employed those members are entitled to elect from among themselves –
 - a) if there are 10 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, one trade union representative;
 - b) if there are more than 10 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, two trade union representatives;
 - c) if there are more than 50 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, two trade union representatives for the first 50 members, plus a further one trade union representative for every additional 50 members up to a maximum of seven trade union representatives;
 - d) if there are more than 300 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, seven trade union representatives for the first 300 members, plus one additional trade union representative for every 100 additional members up to a maximum of 10 trade union representatives.
 - e) if there are more than 600 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, 10 trade union representatives for the first 600 members, plus one additional trade union representative for every 200 additional members up to a maximum of 12 trade union representatives; and
 - f) if there are more than 1 000 members of the trade union employed in the workplace, 12 trade union representatives for the first 1000 members, plus one additional trade union representative for every 500 additional members up to a maximum of 20 trade union representatives.

- 3) The constitution of the representative trade union governs the nomination, election, term of office and removal from office of a trade union representative.
- 4) A trade union representative has the right to perform the following functions –
 - a) at the request of an employee in the workplace, to assist and represent the employee in grievance and disciplinary proceedings;
 - b) to monitor the employer's compliance with the workplace-related provisions of this Act, any law regulating terms and conditions of employment and any collective agreement binding on the employer;
 - c) to report any alleged Contravention of the workplace-related provisions of this Act, any law regulating terms and conditions of employment and any collective agreement binding on the employer to –
 - i) the employer;
 - ii) the representative trade union; and
 - iii) any responsible authority or agency; and
 - d) to perform any other function agreed to between the representative trade union and the employer.
- 5) Subject to reasonable conditions, a trade union representative is entitled to take reasonable time off with pay during working hours –

16. Disclosure of information

referenced by :

- 1) For the purposes of this section, "representative trade union means a registered trade union, or two or more registered trade unions acting jointly, that have as members the majority of the employees employed by an employer in a workplace.
- 2) Subject to subsection (5), an employer must disclose to a trade union representative all relevant information that will allow the trade union representative to perform effectively the functions referred to in section 14(4).
- 3) Subject to subsection (5), whenever an employer is consulting or bargaining with a representative trade union, the employer must disclose to the representative trade union all relevant information that will allow the representative trade union to engage effectively in consultation or collective bargaining.
- 4) The employer must notify the trade union representative or the representative trade union in writing if any information disclosed in terms of subsection (2) or (3) is confidential.
- 5) An employer is not required to disclose information –
 - a) that is legally privileged;
 - b) that the employer cannot disclose without contravening a prohibition imposed on the employer by any law or order of any court;
 - c) that is confidential and, if disclosed, may cause substantial harm to an employee or the employer; or
 - d) that is private personal information relating to an employee, unless that employee consents to the disclosure of that information.
- 6) If there is a dispute about what information is required to be disclosed in terms of this section, any party to the dispute may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission.
- 7) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 8) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 9) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may request that the dispute be resolved through arbitration.
- 10) In any dispute about the disclosure of information contemplated in subsection (6), the commissioner must first decide whether or not the information is relevant.

- 11) If the commissioner decides that the information is relevant and if it is information contemplated in subsection (5)(c) or (d), the commissioner must balance the harm that the disclosure is likely to cause to an employee or employer against the harm that the failure to disclose the information is likely to cause to the ability of a trade union representative to perform effectively the functions referred to in section 14(4) or the ability of a representative trade union to engage effectively in consultation or collective bargaining.
- 12) If the commissioner decides that the balance of harm favours the disclosure of the information, the commissioner may order the disclosure of the information on terms designed to limit the harm likely to be caused to the employee or employer.
- 13) When making an order in terms of subsection (12), the commissioner must take into account any breach of confidentiality in respect of information disclosed in terms of this section at that workplace and may refuse to order the disclosure of the information or any other confidential information which might otherwise be disclosed for a period specified in the arbitration award.
- 14) In any dispute about an alleged breach of confidentiality, the commissioner may order that the right to disclosure of information in that workplace be withdrawn for a period specified in the arbitration award.

21. Exercise of rights conferred by this Part

referenced by :

See flow diagram No. 2 in Schedule 4.

- 1) Any registered trade union may notify an employer in writing that it seeks to exercise one or more of the rights conferred by this Part in a workplace.
- 2) The notice referred to in subsection (1) must be accompanied by a certified copy of the trade union's certificate of registration and must specify –
 - a) the workplace in respect of which the trade union seeks to exercise the rights;
 - b) the representativeness of the trade union in that workplace, and the factor relied upon to demonstrate that it is a representative trade union; and
 - c) the rights that the trade union seeks to exercise and the manner in which it seeks to exercise those rights.
- 3) Within 30 days of receiving the notice, the employer must meet the registered trade union and endeavour to conclude a collective agreement as to the manner in which the trade union will exercise the rights in respect of that workplace.
- 4) If a collective agreement is not concluded, either the registered trade union or the employer may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission.

- 5) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on the other party to the dispute.
- 6) The Commission must appoint a commissioner to attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 7) If the dispute remains unresolved, either party to the dispute may request that the dispute be resolved through arbitration.
- 8) If the unresolved dispute is about whether or not the registered trade union is a representative trade union, the commissioner –
 - a) must seek –
 - i) to minimise the proliferation of trade union representation in a single workplace and, where possible, to encourage a system of a representative trade union in a workplace; and
 - ii) to minimise the financial and administrative burden of requiring an employer to grant organizational rights to more than one registered trade union;
 - b) must consider –
 - i) the nature of the workplace;
 - ii) the nature of the one or more organisational rights that the registered trade union seeks to exercise;
 - iii) the nature of the sector in which the workplace is situated; and
 - iv) the organizational history at the workplace or any other workplace of the employer; and
 - c) may withdraw any of the organisational rights conferred by this Part and which are exercised by any other registered trade union in respect of that workplace, if that other trade union has ceased to be a representative trade union.
- 9) In order to determine the membership or support of the registered trade union, the commissioner may –
 - a) make any necessary inquiries;
 - b) where appropriate, conduct a ballot of the relevant employees; and
 - c) take into account any other relevant information.
- 10) The employer must co-operate with the Commissioner when the commissioner acts in terms of subsection (9), and must make available to the commissioner any information and facilities that are reasonably necessary for the purposes of that subsection.
- 11) An employer who alleges that a trade union is no longer a representative trade union may apply to the Commission to withdraw any of the organizational rights conferred by this Part, in which case the provisions of subsections (5) to (10) apply, read with the changes required by the context.

23. Legal effect of collective agreement

referenced by :

- 1) A collective agreement binds –
 - a) the parties to the collective agreement;
 - b) each party to the collective agreement and the members of every other party to the collective agreement, in so far as the provisions are applicable between them;
 - c) the members of a registered trade union and the employers who are members of a registered employers' organisation that are party to the collective agreement if the collective agreement regulates :
 - i) terms and conditions of employment; or
 - ii) the conduct of the employers in relation to their employees or the conduct of the employees in relation to their employers;
 - d) employees who are not members of the registered trade union or trade unions party to the agreement if :
 - i) the employees are identified in the agreement;
 - ii) the agreement expressly binds the employees; and
 - iii) that trade union or those trade unions have as their members the majority of employees employed by the employer in the workplace.
- 2) A collective agreement binds for the whole period of the collective agreement every person bound in terms of subsection (1)(c) who was a member at the time it became binding, or who becomes a member after it became binding, whether or not that person continues to be a member of the registered trade union or registered employers' organisation for the duration of the collective agreement.

- 3) Where applicable, a collective agreement varies any contract of employment between an employee and employer who are both bound by the collective agreement.\
- 4) Unless the collective agreement provides otherwise, any party to a collective agreement that is concluded for an indefinite period may terminate the agreement by giving reasonable notice in writing to the other parties.

24. Disputes about collective agreements

referenced by :

- 1) Every collective agreement excluding an agency shop agreement concluded in terms of section 25 or a closed shop agreement concluded in terms of section 26 or a settlement agreement contemplated in either section 142A or 158(1)(c), must provide for a procedure to resolve any dispute about the interpretation or application of the collective agreement. The procedure must first require the parties to attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation and, if the dispute remains unresolved, to resolve it through arbitration.
- 2) If there is a dispute about the interpretation or application of a collective agreement, any party to the dispute may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission if :
 - a) the collective agreement does not provide for a procedure as required by subsection (1);
 - b) the procedure provided for in the collective agreement is not operative; or
 - c) any party to the collective agreement has frustrated the resolution of the dispute in terms of the collective agreement.
- 3) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 4) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 5) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may request that the dispute be resolved through arbitration.
- 6) If there is a dispute about the interpretation or application of an agency shop agreement concluded in terms of section 25 or a closed shop agreement concluded in terms of section 26, any party to the dispute may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission, and subsections (3) to (5) will apply to that dispute.

See flow diagram No. 3 in Schedule 4.
See flow diagram No. 4 in Schedule 4.
- 7) Any person bound by an arbitration award about the interpretation or application of section 25(3)(c) and (d) or section 26(3)(d) may appeal against that award to the Labour Court.
- 8) If there is a dispute about the interpretation or application of a settlement agreement contemplated in either section 142A or 158(1)(c), a party may refer the dispute to a council or the Commission and subsections (3) to (5), with the necessary changes, apply to that dispute.

Part B: Collective Agreements
25. Agency shop agreements

referenced by :

- 1) A representative trade union and an employer or employers' organization may conclude a collective agreement, to be known as an agency shop agreement, requiring the employer to deduct an agreed agency fee from the wages of employees identified in the agreement who are not members of the trade union, but are eligible for membership thereof.
- 2) For the purposes of this section, "representative trade union" means a registered trade union, or two or more registered trade unions acting jointly, whose members are a majority of the employees employed :
 - a) by an employer in a workplace; or
 - b) by the members of an employers' organisation in a sector and area in respect of which the agency shop agreement applies.
- 3) An agency shop agreement is binding only if it provides that :
 - a) employees who are not members of the representative trade union are not compelled to become members of that trade union;
 - b) the agreed agency fee must be equivalent to, or less than :
 - i) the amount of the subscription payable by the members of the representative trade union;
 - ii) if the subscription of the representative trade union is calculated as a percentage of an employee's salary, that percentage; or
 - iii) if there are two or more registered trade unions party to the agreement, the highest amount of the subscription that would apply to an employee;
 - c) the amount deducted must be paid into a separate account administered by the representative trade union; and
 - d) no agency fee deducted may be :
 - i) paid to a political party as an affiliation fee;
 - ii) contributed in cash or kind to a political party or a person standing for election to any political office; or
 - iii) used for any expenditure that does not advance or protect the Socio-economic interests of employees.
- 4)
 - a) Despite the provisions of any law or contract, an employer may deduct the agreed agency fee from the wages of an employee without the employee's authorization.
 - b) Despite subsection 3(c) a conscientious objector may request the employer to pay the amount deducted from that employee's wages into a fund administered by the Department of Labour.
- 5) The provisions of sections 98 and 100(b) and (c) apply, read with the changes required by the context, to the separate account referred to in subsection (3)(c).
- 6) Any person may inspect the auditor's report, in so far as it relates to an account referred to in subsection (3)(c), in the registrar's office.
- 7) The registrar must provide a certified copy of, or extract from, any of the documents referred to in subsection (6) to any person who has paid the prescribed fees.

- 8) An employer or employers' organisation that alleges that a trade union is no longer a representative trade union in terms of subsection (1) must give the trade union written notice of the allegation, and must allow the trade union 90 days from the date of the notice to establish that it is a representative trade union.
- 9) If, within the 90-day period, the trade union fails to establish that it is a representative trade union, the employer must give the trade union and the employees covered by the agency shop agreement 30 days' notice of termination, after which the agreement will terminate.
- 10) If an agency shop agreement is terminated, the provisions of subsection (3)(c) and (d) and (5) apply until the money in the separate account is spent.

Labour Relations Act, 1995
Chapter III: Collective Bargaining
Part B: Collective Agreements
26. Closed shop agreements

referenced by :

- 1) A representative trade union and an employer or employers' organization may conclude a collective agreement, to be known as a closed shop agreement, requiring all employees covered by the agreement to be members of the trade union.
- 2) For the purposes of this section, "representative trade union" means a registered trade union, or two or more registered trade unions acting jointly, whose members are a majority of the employees employed :
 - a) by an employer in a workplace; or
 - b) by the members of an employers' organisation in a sector and area in respect of which the closed shop agreement applies.
- 3) A closed shop agreement is binding only if :
 - a) a ballot has been held of the employees to be covered by the agreement;
 - b) two thirds of the employees who voted have voted in favour of the agreement;
 - c) there is no provision in the agreement requiring membership of the representative trade union before employment commences; and
 - d) it provides that no membership subscription or levy deducted may be :
 - i) paid to a political party as an affiliation fee;
 - ii) contributed in cash or kind to a political party or a person standing for election to any political office; or
 - iii) used for any expenditure that does not advance or protect the Socio-economic interests of employees.
- 4) Despite subsection (3)(b), a closed shop agreement contemplated in subsection (2)(b) may be concluded between a registered trade union and a registered employers' organization in respect of a sector and area to become binding in every workplace in which :
 - a) a ballot has been held of the employees to be covered by the agreement; and
 - b) two thirds of the employees who voted have voted in favour of the agreement.

- 5) No trade union that is party to a closed shop agreement may refuse an employee membership or expel an employee from the trade union unless :
 - a) the refusal or expulsion is in accordance with the trade union's constitution; and
 - b) the reason for the refusal or expulsion is fair, including, but not limited to, conduct that undermines the trade union's collective exercise of its rights.
- 6) It is not unfair to dismiss an employee :
 - a) for refusing to join a trade union party to a closed shop agreement;
 - b) who is refused membership of a trade union party to a closed shop agreement if the refusal is in accordance with the provisions of subsection (5); or
 - c) who is expelled from a trade union party to a closed shop agreement if the expulsion is in accordance with the provisions of subsection (5).
- 7) Despite subsection (6) :
 - a) the employees at the time a closed shop agreement takes effect may not be dismissed for refusing to join a trade union party to the agreement; and
 - b) employees may not be dismissed for refusing to join a trade union party to the agreement on grounds of conscientious objection.
- 8) The employees referred to in subsection (7) may be required by the closed shop agreement to pay an agreed agency fee, in which case the provisions of section 25(3)(b), (c) and (d) and (4) to (7) apply.
- 9) If the Labour Court decides that a dismissal is unfair because the refusal of membership of or the expulsion from a trade union party to a closed shop agreement was unfair, the provisions of Chapter VIII apply, except that any order of compensation in terms of that Chapter must be made against the trade union.
- 10) A registered trade union that represents a significant interest in, or a substantial number of, the employees covered by a closed shop agreement may notify the parties to the agreement of its intention to apply to become a party to the agreement and, within 30 days of the notice, the employer must convene a meeting of the parties and the registered trade union in order to consider the application.
- 11) If the parties to a closed shop agreement do not admit the registered trade union as a party, the trade union may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission.
- 12) The registered trade union must satisfy the Commission that a copy of the referral has been served on all the parties to the closed shop agreement.
- 13) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 14) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may refer it to the Labour Court for adjudication.
- 15) The representative trade union must conduct a ballot of the employees covered by the closed shop agreement to determine whether the agreement should be terminated if :
 - a) one third of the employees covered by the agreement sign a petition calling for the termination of the agreement; and
 - b) three years have elapsed since the date on which the agreement commenced or the last ballot was conducted in terms of this section.
- 16) If a majority of the employees who voted, have voted to terminate the closed shop agreement, the agreement will terminate.

- 17) Unless a collective agreement provides otherwise, the ballot referred to in subsections (3)(a) and (15) must be conducted in accordance with the guidelines published by the Commission.

Part C: Bargaining Councils
29. Registration of bargaining councils

referenced by:

- 1) The parties referred to in section 27 may apply for registration of a bargaining council by submitting to the registrar –
 - a) the prescribed form that has been properly completed;
 - b) a copy of its constitution; and
 - c) any other information that may assist the registrar to determine whether or not the bargaining council meets the requirements for registration.
- 2) The registrar may require further information in support of the application.
- 3) As soon as practicable after receiving the application, the registrar must publish a notice containing the material particulars of the application in the Government Gazette and send a copy of the notice to NEDLAC. The notice must inform the general public that they –
 - a) may object to the application on any of the grounds referred to in subsection (4); and
 - b) have 30 days from the date of the notice to serve any objection on the registrar and a copy on the applicant."; and
- 4) Any person who objects to the application must satisfy the registrar that a copy of the objection has been served on the applicant and that the objection is on any of the following grounds –
 - a) the applicant has not complied with the provisions of this section;
 - b) the sector and area in respect of which the application is made is not appropriate;
 - c) the applicant is not sufficiently representative in the sector and area in respect of which the application is made.
- 5) The registrar may require further information in support of the objection.
- 6) The applicant may respond to an objection within 14 days of the expiry of the period referred to in subsection (3)(b), and must satisfy the registrar that a copy of that response has been served on the person who objected.

- 7) The registrar, as soon as practicable, must send the application and any objections, responses and further information to NEDLAC to consider.
- 8) NEDLAC, within 90 days of receiving the documents from the registrar, must –
 - a) consider the appropriateness of the sector and area in respect of which the application is made;
 - b) demarcate the appropriate sector and area in respect of which the bargaining council should be registered; and
 - c) report to the registrar in writing.
- 9) If NEDLAC fails to agree on a demarcation as required in subsection (8)(b), the Minister must demarcate the appropriate sector and area and advise the registrar.
- 10) In determining the appropriateness of the sector and area for the demarcation contemplated in subsection (8)(b), NEDLAC or the Minister must seek to give effect to the primary objects of this Act.
- 11) The registrar –
 - a) must consider the application and any further information provided by the applicant,
 - b) must determine whether –
 - i) the applicant has complied with the provisions of this section;
 - ii) the constitution of the bargaining council complies with section 30;
 - iii) adequate provision is made in the constitution of the bargaining council for the representation of small and medium enterprises;
 - iv) the parties to the bargaining council are sufficiently representative of the sector and area determined by NEDLAC or the Minister; and
 - v) there is no other council registered for the sector and area in respect of which the application is made; and
 - c) if satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements for registration, must register the bargaining council by entering the applicant's name in the register of councils.
- 12) If the registrar is not satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements for registration, the registrar –
 - a) must send the applicant a written notice of the decision and the reasons for that decision; and
 - b) in that notice, must inform the applicant that it has 30 days from the date of the notice to meet those requirements.
- 13) If, within that 30-day period, the applicant meets those requirements, the registrar must register the applicant by entering the applicant's name in the register of councils.
- 14) If, after the 30-day period, the registrar concludes that the applicant has failed to meet the requirements for registration, the registrar must –
 - a) refuse to register the applicant; and
 - b) notify the applicant and any person that objected to the application of that decision in writing.
- 15) After registering the applicant, the registrar must :
 - a) issue a certificate of registration in the applicant's name that must specify the registered scope of the applicant; and
 - b) send the registration certificate and a certified copy of the registered constitution to the applicant.

- 16) Subsections (3) to (10) and (11)(b)(iii) and (iv) do not apply to the registration or amalgamation of bargaining councils in the public service.

Part C: Bargaining Councils
30. Constitution of bargaining council

referenced by :

- 1) The constitution of every bargaining council must at least provide for –
- a) the appointment of representatives of the parties to the bargaining council, of whom half must be appointed by the trade unions that are party to the bargaining council and the other half by the employers' organizations that are party to the bargaining council, and the appointment of alternates to the representatives;
 - b) the representation of small and medium enterprises,
 - c) the circumstances and manner in which representatives must vacate their seats' and the procedure for replacing them;
 - d) rules for the convening and conducting of meetings of representatives, including the quorum required for, and the minutes to be kept of, those meetings;
 - e) the manner in which decisions are to be made;
 - f) the appointment or election of office-bearers and officials, their functions, and the circumstances and manner in which they may be removed from office;
 - g) the establishment and functioning of committees;
 - h) the determination through arbitration of any dispute arising between the parties to the bargaining council about the interpretation or application of the bargaining council's constitution;
 - i) the procedure to be followed if a dispute arises between the parties to the bargaining council;
 - j) the procedure to be followed if a dispute arises between a registered trade union that is a party to the bargaining council, or its members, or both, on the one hand, and employers who belong to a registered employers' organisation that is a party to the bargaining council, on the other hand;
 - k) the procedure for exemption from collective agreements;
 - l) the banking and investment of its funds;
 - m) the purposes for which its funds may be used;
 - n) the delegation of its powers and functions;
 - o) the admission of additional registered trade unions and registered employers' organisations as parties to the bargaining council, subject to the provisions of section 56; (Section 56 provides for a procedure for the admission of parties to a council.)
 - p) a procedure for changing its constitution; and
 - q) a procedure by which it may resolve to wind up.
- 2) The requirements for the constitution of a bargaining council in subsection (1) apply to the constitution of a bargaining council in the public service except that –
- a) any reference to an "employers' organisation" must be read as a reference to the State as employer; and
 - b) the requirement in subsection (1)(b) concerning the representation of small and medium enterprises does not apply.

- 3) The constitution of the Public Service Co-ordinating Bargaining Council must include a procedure for establishing a bargaining council in a sector of the public service designated in terms of section 37(1).
- 4) The constitution of a bargaining council in the public service may include provisions for the establishment and functioning of chambers of a bargaining council on national and regional levels.
- 5) The procedure for the resolution of disputes referred to in subsection (1)(h), (i) and (j) may not entrust dispute resolution functions to the Commission unless the governing body of the Commission has agreed thereto.

Chapter III: Collective Bargaining

Part C: Bargaining Councils

31. Binding nature of collective agreement concluded in bargaining council

referenced by :

- 1) Subject to the provisions of section 32 and the constitution of the bargaining council, a collective agreement concluded in a bargaining council binds –
 - a) the parties to the bargaining council who are parties to the collective agreement;
 - b) each party to the collective agreement and the members of every other party in the collective agreement in so far as the provisions thereof apply to the relationship between such a party and the members of such other party; and
 - c) The members of a registered trade union that is a party to the collective agreement and the employers who are members of a registered employers' organisation that is such a party, if the collective agreement regulates –
 - i) terms and conditions of employment, or
 - ii) the conduct of the employers in relation to their employees or the conduct of the employees to their employers.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter III: Collective Bargaining

Part C: Bargaining Councils

32. Extension of collective agreement concluded in bargaining council

referenced by :

- 1) A bargaining council may ask the Minister in writing to extend a collective agreement concluded in the bargaining council to any non-parties to the collective agreement that are within its registered scope and are identified in the request, if at a meeting of the bargaining council –
 - a) one or more registered trade unions whose members constitute the majority of the members of the trade unions that are party to the bargaining council vote in favour of the extension; and
 - b) one or more registered employers' organizations, whose members employ the majority of the employees employed by the members of the employers' organizations that are party to the bargaining council, vote in favour of the extension.

- 2) Within 60 days of receiving the request, the Minister must extend the collective agreement, as requested, by publishing a notice in the Government Gazette declaring that, from a specified date and for a specified period, the collective agreement will be binding on the non-parties specified in the notice.
- 3) A collective agreement may not be extended in terms of subsection (2) unless the Minister is satisfied that –
 - a) the decision by the bargaining council to request the extension of the collective agreement complies with the provisions of subsection (1);
 - b) the majority of all the employees who, upon extension of the collective agreement, will fall within the scope of the agreement, are members of the trade unions that are parties to the bargaining council;
 - c) the members of the employers' organisations that are parties to the bargaining council will, upon extension of the collective agreement be found to employ the majority of all the employees who fall within the scope of the collective agreement;
 - d) the non-parties specified in the request fall within the bargaining council's registered scope;
 - e) provision is made in the collective agreement for an independent body to hear and decide, as soon as possible, any special appeal brought against –
 - i) the bargaining council's refusal of a non-party's application for exemption from the provisions of the collective agreement;
 - ii) the withdrawal of such an exemption by the bargaining council;
 - f) the collective agreement contains criteria that must be applied by the independent body when it considers an appeal, and that those criteria are fair and promote the primary objects of this Act; and
 - g) the terms of the collective agreement do not discriminate against non-parties.
- 4) [Sub. (4) deleted by Section 2 of Act No. 127 of 1998]
- 5) Despite subsection (3)(b) and (c), the Minister may extend a collective agreement in terms of subsection (2) if –
 - a) the parties to the bargaining council are sufficiently representative within the registered scope of the bargaining council; and
 - b) the Minister is satisfied that failure to extend the agreement may undermine collective bargaining at sectoral level or in the public service as a whole.
- 6)
 - a) After a notice has been published in terms of subsection (2), the Minister, at the request of the bargaining council, may publish a further notice in the Government Gazette –
 - i) extending the period specified in the earlier notice by a further period determined by the Minister; or
 - ii) if the period specified in the earlier notice has expired, declaring a new date from which, and a further period during which, the provisions of the earlier notice will be effective.
 - b) The provisions of subsections (3) and (5), read with the changes required by the context, apply in respect of the publication of any notice in terms of this subsection.
- 7) The Minister, at the request of the bargaining council, must publish a notice in the Government Gazette cancelling all or part of any notice published in terms of subsection (2) or (6) from a date specified in the notice.
- 8) Whenever any collective agreement in respect of which a notice has been published in terms of subsection (2) or (6) is amended, amplified or replaced by a new collective agreement, the provisions of this section apply to that new collective agreement.

- 9) For the purposes of extending collective agreements concluded in the Public Service Co-ordinating Bargaining Council or any bargaining council contemplated in section 37(3) or (4) –
 - a) any reference in this section to an employers' organisation must be read as a reference to the State as an employer; and
 - b) subsections (3)(c), (e) and (f) and (4) of this section will not apply.
- 10) If the parties to a collective agreement that has been extended in terms of this section terminate the agreement, they must notify the Minister in writing.

Chapter III: Collective Bargaining

Part C: Bargaining Councils

33. Appointment and powers of designated agents of bargaining councils

referenced by :

- 1) The Minister may at the request of a bargaining council appoint any person as the designated agent of that bargaining council to promote, monitor and enforce compliance with, any collective agreement concluded in that bargaining council.
 - 1A) A designated agent may –
 - a) secure compliance with the council's collective agreements by –
 - i) publicising the contents of the agreements;
 - ii) conducting inspections;
 - iii) investigating complaints; or
 - iv) any other means the council may adopt; and
 - b. perform any other functions that are conferred or imposed on the agent by the council.
 - 2) A bargaining council must provide each designated agent with a certificate signed by the secretary of the bargaining council stating that the agent has been appointed in terms of this Act as a designated agent of that bargaining council.
 - 3) Within the registered scope of the bargaining council, a designated agent of the bargaining council has all the powers set out in Schedule 10.
 - 4) The bargaining council may cancel the certificate provided to a designated agent in terms of subsection (2) and the agent then ceases to be a designated agent of the bargaining council and must immediately surrender the certificate to the secretary of the bargaining council.

Chapter III: Collective Bargaining
Part C: Bargaining Councils

33A Enforcement of collective agreements by bargaining council

- 1) Despite any other provision in this Act, a bargaining council may monitor and enforce compliance with its collective agreements in terms of this section or a collective agreement concluded by the parties to the council.
- 2) For the purposes of this section, a collective agreement is deemed to include –
 - a) any basic condition of employment which in terms of section 49(1) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act constitutes a term of employment of any employee covered by the collective agreement; and
 - b) the rules of any fund or scheme established by the bargaining council.
- 3) A collective agreement in terms of this section may authorise a designated agent appointed in terms of section 33 to issue a compliance order requiring any person bound by that collective agreement to comply with the collective agreement within a specified period.
- 4)
 - a) The council may refer any unresolved dispute concerning compliance with any provision of a collective agreement to arbitration by an arbitrator appointed by the council.
 - b) If a party to an arbitration in terms of this section, that is not a party to the council, objects to the appointment of an arbitrator in terms of paragraph (a), the Commission, on request by the council, must appoint an arbitrator.
 - c) If an arbitrator is appointed in terms of subparagraph (b) –
 - i) the Council remains liable for the payment of the arbitrator's fee; and
 - ii) the arbitration is not conducted under the auspices of the Commission.
- 5) An arbitrator conducting an arbitration in terms of this section has the powers of a commissioner in terms of section 142, read with the changes required by the context.
- 6) Section 138, read with the changes required by the context, applies to any arbitration conducted in terms of this section.
- 7) An arbitrator acting in terms of this section may determine any dispute concerning the interpretation or application of a collective agreement.
- 8) An arbitrator conducting an arbitration in terms of this section may make an appropriate award, including –
 - a) ordering any person to pay any amount owing in terms of a collective agreement;
 - b) imposing a fine for a failure to comply with a collective agreement in accordance with subsection (13);
 - c) charging a party an arbitration fee;
 - d) ordering a party to pay the costs of the arbitration;
 - e) confirming, varying or setting aside a compliance order issued by a designated agent in accordance with subsection (4);
 - f) any award contemplated in section 138(9).\

- 9) Interest on any amount that a person is obliged to pay in terms of a collective agreement accrues from the date on which the amount was due and payable at the rate prescribed in terms of section 1 of the Prescribed Rate of Interest Act, 1975 (Act No. 55 of 1975), unless the arbitration award provides otherwise.
- 10) An award in an arbitration conducted in terms of this section is final and binding and may be enforced in terms of section 143.
- 11) Any reference in section 138 or 142 to the director must be read as a reference to the secretary of the bargaining council.
- 12) If an employer upon whom a fine has been imposed in terms of this section files an application to review and set aside an award made in terms of subsection (8), any obligation to pay a fine is suspended pending the outcome of the application.
 - a) The Minister may, after consulting NEDLAC, publish in the Government Gazette a notice that sets out the maximum fines that may be imposed by an arbitrator acting in terms of this section.
 - b) A notice in terms of paragraph (a) may specify the maximum fine that may be imposed –
 - i) for a breach of a collective agreement –
 - (aa) not involving a failure to pay any amount of money;
 - (bb) involving a failure to pay any amount of money; and
 - ii) for repeated breaches of the collective agreement contemplated in subparagraph (i).

Part C: Bargaining Councils

34. Amalgamation of bargaining councils

- 1) Any bargaining council may resolve to amalgamate with one or more other bargaining councils.
- 2) The amalgamating bargaining councils may apply to the registrar for registration of the amalgamated bargaining council and the registrar must treat the application as an application in terms of section 29.
- 3) If the registrar has registered the amalgamated bargaining council, the registrar must cancel the registration of each of the amalgamating bargaining councils by removing their names from the register of councils.
- 4) The registration of an amalgamated bargaining council takes effect from the date that the registrar enters its name in the register of councils.

- 5) When the registrar has registered an amalgamated bargaining council –
 - a) all the assets, rights, liabilities and obligations of the amalgamating bargaining councils devolve upon and vest in the amalgamated bargaining council; and
 - b) all the collective agreements of the amalgamating bargaining councils, regardless of whether or not they were extended in terms of section 32, remain in force for the duration of those collective agreements, unless amended or terminated by the amalgamated bargaining council.

 - b) the registered employers' organizations to be parties to the statutory council, the Minister must admit as parties to the statutory council the agreed registered employers' organizations.

- 3) If no agreement is concluded on –
 - a) the registered trade unions to be parties to the statutory council, the Minister must admit as parties to the statutory council –
 - i) the applicant, if it is a registered trade union; and
 - ii) any other registered trade union in the sector and area that ought to be admitted, taking into account the factors referred to in section 40(5);
 - b) the registered employers' organisations to be parties to the statutory council, the Minister must admit as parties to the statutory council –
 - i) the applicant, if it is a registered employers' organisation; and
 - ii) any other registered employers' organisation in the sector and area that ought to be admitted, taking into account the factors referred to in section 40 (5).

 - a) The Minister must determine an even number of representatives of the statutory council, taking into account the factors referred to in section 40(5).
 - b) One half of the representatives must be allocated to the registered trade unions that are parties to the statutory council and the other half of the representatives must be allocated to the registered employers' organisations that are parties to the statutory council.

- 5) If no agreement is concluded in respect of the allocation of the number of representatives of the statutory council –
 - a) between the registered trade unions that are parties to the council, the Minister must determine this allocation on the basis of proportional representation;
 - b) between the registered employers organisations that are parties to the council, the Minister must determine this allocation on the basis of proportional representation and taking into account the interests of small and medium enterprises.

- 6) If the applicant is a trade union and there is no registered employers' organization that is a party to the statutory council, the Minister, after consulting the Commission, must appoint suitable persons as representatives and alternates, taking into account the nominations received from employers and employers' organizations in terms of section 40(2).
- 7) If the applicant is an employers' organisation and there is no registered trade union that is a party to the statutory council, the Minister, after consulting the Commission, must appoint suitable persons as representatives and alternates, taking into account the nominations received from employees and trade unions in terms of section 40(2).
- 8) The Minister must notify the registrar of agreements concluded and decisions made in terms of this section, and the registrar must –
 - a) adapt the model constitution referred to in section 207(3) to the extent necessary to give effect to the agreements and decisions made in terms of this section;
 - b) register the statutory council by entering its name in the register of councils; and
 - c) certify the constitution as the Constitution of the statutory council.

51. Dispute resolution functions of council

referenced by :

- 1) In this section, dispute means any dispute about a matter of mutual interest between –
 - a) on the one side –
 - i) one or more trade unions;
 - ii) one or more employees; or
 - iii) one or more trade unions and one or more employees; and
 - b) on the other side -
 - i) one or more employers' organisations;
 - ii) one or more employers; or
 - iii) one or more employers' organizations and one or more employers.

 - a)
 - i) The parties to a council must attempt to resolve any dispute between themselves in accordance with the constitution of the council.
 - ii) For the purposes of subparagraph (i), a party to a council includes the members of any registered trade union or registered employers' organisation that is a party to the council.
 - b) Any party to a dispute who is not a party to a council but who falls within the registered scope of the council may refer the dispute to the council in writing.
 - c) The party who refers the dispute to the council must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.

- 3) If a dispute is referred to a council in terms of this Act and any party to that dispute is not a party to that council, the council must attempt to resolve the dispute -

The following disputes must be referred to a council: disputes about the interpretation or application of the provisions of Chapter II (see section 9); disputes that form the subject matter of a proposed strike or lock-out (see section 64(1)); disputes in essential services (see section 74); disputes about unfair dismissals (see section 191); disputes about severance pay (see section 196); and disputes about unfair labour practices (see item 2 in Schedule 7).

The following disputes may not be referred to a council: disputes about organizational rights (see sections 16 , 21 and 22); disputes about collective agreements where the agreement does not provide for a procedure or the procedure is inoperative or any party frustrates the resolution of the dispute (see section 24(2) to (5)); disputes about agency shops and closed shops (see section 24(6) and (7) and section 26(11)); disputes about determinations made by the Minister in respect of proposals made by a statutory council (see section 45); disputes about the interpretation or application of collective agreements of a council whose registration has been cancelled (see section 61(5) to (8)); disputes about the demarcation of sectors and areas of councils (see section 62); disputes about the interpretation or application of Part C (bargaining councils), Part D (bargaining councils in the public service), Part E (statutory councils) and Part F. (general provisions concerning councils) (see section 63); disputes concerning pickets (see section 69(8) to (10)); disputes about proposals that are the subject of joint decision-making in workplace forums (see section 86); disputes about the disclosure of information to workplace forums (see section 89); and disputes about the interpretation or application of the provisions of Chapter V which deals with workplace forums (see section 94).

- a) through conciliation; and
 - b) if the dispute remains unresolved after conciliation, the council must arbitrate the dispute if-
- 4)
 - a) this Act requires arbitration and any party to the dispute has requested that it be resolved through arbitration; or
 - b) all the parties to the dispute consent to arbitration under the auspices of the council.
 - 5) If one or more of the parties to a dispute that has been referred to the council do not fall within the registered scope of that council, it must refer the dispute to the Commission.
 - 6) The date on which the referral in terms of subsection (4) was received by a council is, for all purposes, the date on which the council referred the dispute to the Commission. A council may enter into an agreement with the Commission or an accredited agency in terms of which the Commission or accredited agency is to perform, on behalf of the council, its dispute resolution functions in terms of this section.
 - 7) Subject to this Act, a council may not provide in a collective agreement for the referral of disputes to the Commission, without prior consultation with the director.
 - 8) Unless otherwise agreed to in a collective agreement, sections 142A and 143 to 146 apply to any arbitration conducted under the auspices of a bargaining council.
 - 9) A bargaining council may by collective agreement establish procedures to resolve any dispute contemplated in this section

59. Winding-up of council

referenced by :

- 1) The Labour Court may order a council to be wound up if-
 - a) the council has resolved to wind up its affairs and has applied to the Court for an order giving effect to that resolution; or
 - b) the registrar of labour relations or any party to the council has applied to the Court and the Court is satisfied that the council is unable to continue to function for any reason that cannot be remedied.
- 2) If there are any persons not represented before the Labour Court whose interests may be affected by an order in terms of subsection (1), the Court must-
 - a) consider those interests before deciding whether or not to grant the order; and
 - b) if it grants the order, include provisions in the order disposing of each of those interests.
- 3) If it makes an order in terms of subsection (1), the Labour Court may appoint a suitable person as liquidator, on appropriate conditions.
- 4)
 - a) The registrar of the Labour Court must determine the liquidator's fees.
 - b) The Labour Court, in chambers, may review the determination of the registrar of the Labour Court.
 - c) The liquidator's fees are a first charge against the assets of the council.
- 5) If, after all the liabilities of the council have been discharged, any assets remain that cannot be disposed of in accordance with the constitution of that council, the liquidator must realise those assets and pay the proceeds to the Commission for its own use.
- 6) For the purposes of this section, the assets and liabilities of any pension, provident or medical aid scheme or fund established by a council will be regarded and treated as part of the assets and liabilities of the council unless-
 - a) the parties to the council have agreed to continue with the operation of the pension, provident or medical aid scheme or fund as a separate scheme or fund despite the winding-up of the council; and
 - b) the Minister has approved the continuation of the scheme or fund; and
 - c) application has been made in accordance with the provisions of the laws applicable to pension, provident or medical aid schemes or funds, for the registration of that scheme or fund in terms of those provisions.

- 7) A pension, provident or medical aid scheme or fund registered under the provisions of those laws after its application in terms of subsection (6)(c), will continue to be a separate scheme or fund despite the winding-up of the council by which it was established.
- 8) The Minister by notice in the Government Gazette may declare the rules of a pension, provident or medical aid scheme or fund mentioned in subsection (7), to be binding on any employees and employer or employers that fell within the registered scope of the relevant council immediately before it was wound-up.

61. Cancellation of registration of council

referenced by :

- 1) The registrar of the Labour Court must notify the registrar of labour relations if the Court has ordered a council to be wound up.
- 2) When the registrar receives a notice from the Labour Court in terms of subsection (1), the registrar must cancel the registration of the council by removing its name from the register of councils.
- 3) The registrar may notify a council and every party to the council that the registrar is considering cancelling the council's registration, if the registrar believes that-
 - a) the council has ceased to perform its functions in terms of this Act for a period longer than 90 days before the date of the notice; or
 - b) the council has ceased to be representative in terms of the provisions of the relevant Part, for a period longer than 90 days prior to the date of the notice.
- 4) In a notice in terms of subsection (3), the registrar must state the reasons for the notice and inform the council and every party to the council that they have 60 days to show cause why the council's registration should not be cancelled.
- 5) After the expiry of the 60-day period, the registrar, unless cause has been shown why the council's registration should not be cancelled, must notify the council and every party to the council that the registration will be cancelled unless an appeal to the Labour Court is noted and the Court reverses the decision.

- 6) The cancellation takes effect-
 - a) if no appeal to the Labour Court is noted within the time contemplated in section 111(3), on the expiry of that period; or
 - b) if the council or any party has appealed and the Labour Court has confirmed the decision of the registrar, on the date of the Labour Court's decision.
- 7) If either event contemplated in subsection (6) occurs, the registrar must cancel the council's registration by removing the name of the council from the register of councils.
- 8) Any collective agreement concluded by parties to a council whose registration has been cancelled, whether or not the collective agreement has been extended to non-parties by the Minister in terms of section 32, lapses 60 days after the council's registration has been cancelled.
- 9) Despite subsection (8), the provisions of a collective agreement that regulates terms and conditions of employment remain in force for one year after the date that the council's registration was cancelled, or until the expiry of the agreement, if earlier.
- 10) Any party to a dispute about the interpretation or application of a collective agreement that regulates terms and conditions of employment referred to in subsection (8) may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission.
- 11) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 12) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 13) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may request that the dispute be resolved through arbitration.
- 14) The registrar must cancel the registration of a bargaining council in the public service by removing its name from the register of councils when the registrar receives a resolution from the Public Service Co-ordinating Bargaining Council disestablishing a bargaining council established in terms of section 37(2).
- 15) The provisions of subsections (3) to (7) do not apply to bargaining councils in the public service

62. Disputes about demarcation between sectors and areas

referenced by :

- 1) Any registered trade union, employer, employee, registered employers' organization or council that has a direct or indirect interest in the application contemplated in this section may apply to the Commission in the prescribed form and manner for a determination as to-
 - a) whether any employee, employer, class of employees or class of employers, is or was employed or engaged in a sector or area;
 - b) whether any provision in any arbitration award, collective agreement or wage determination made in terms of the Wage Act is or was binding on any employee, employer, class of employees or class of employers.
- 2) If two or more councils settle a dispute about a question contemplated in subsection (1)(a) or (b), the councils must inform the Minister of the provisions of their agreement and the Minister may publish a notice in the Government Gazette stating the particulars of the agreement.
- 3) In any proceedings in terms of this Act before the Labour Court, if a question contemplated in subsection (1)(a) or (b) is raised, the Labour Court must adjourn those proceedings and refer the question to the Commission for determination if the Court is satisfied that-
 - a) the question raised-
 - i) has not previously been determined by arbitration in terms of this section; and
 - ii) is not the subject of an agreement in terms of subsection (2); and
 - b) the determination of the question raised is necessary for the purposes of the proceedings.
- 3A) In any proceedings before an arbitrator about the interpretation of or application of a collective agreement, if a question contemplated in subsection (1)(a) or (b) is raised, the arbitrator must adjourn those proceedings and refer the question to the Commission if the arbitrator is satisfied that -
 - a) the question raised -
 - i) has not previously been determined by arbitration in terms of this section; and
 - ii) is not the subject of an agreement in terms of subsection (2); and
- 4) the determination of the question raised is necessary for the purposes of the proceedings.
- 5) When the Commission receives an application in terms of subsection (1) or a referral in terms of subsection (3), it must appoint a commissioner to hear the application or determine the question, and the provisions of section 138 apply, read with the changes required by the context

- 6) In any proceedings in terms of this Act before a commissioner, if a question contemplated in subsection (1)(a) or (b) is raised, the commissioner must adjourn the proceedings and consult the director, if the commissioner is satisfied that-
 - a) the question raised-
 - i) has not previously been determined by arbitration in terms of this section; and
 - ii) is not the subject of an agreement in terms of subsection (2); and
 - b) the determination of the question raised is necessary for the purposes of the proceedings.
- 7) The director must either order the commissioner concerned to determine the question or appoint another commissioner to do so, and the provisions of section 138 apply, read with the changes required by the context.
- 8) If the Commission believes that the question is of substantial importance, the Commission must publish a notice in the Government Gazette stating the particulars of the application or referral and stating the period within which written representations may be made and the address to which they must be directed.
- 9) If a notice contemplated in subsection (7) has been published, the commissioner may not commence the arbitration until the period stated in the notice has expired.
- 10) Before making an award, the commissioner must consider any written representations that are made, and must consult NEDLAC.
- 11) The commissioner must send the award, together with brief reasons, to the Labour Court and to the Commission.
- 12) If the Commission believes that the nature of the award is substantially important, it may publish notice of the award in the Government Gazette.
- 13) The registrar must amend the certificate of registration of a council in so far as is necessary in light of the award.

63. Disputes about Parts A and C to F

referenced by :

- 1) Any party to a dispute about the interpretation or application of Parts A and C to F of this Chapter, may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission unless-
 - a) the dispute has arisen in the course of arbitration proceedings or proceedings in the Labour Court; or
 - b) the dispute is otherwise to be dealt with in terms of Parts A and C to F.
- 2) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 3) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.

- 4) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may refer it to the Labour Court for adjudication.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

64. Right to strike and recourse to lock-out

referenced by :

- 1) Every employee has the right to strike and every employer has recourse to lock-out if-
- a) the issue in dispute has been referred to a council or to the Commission as required by this Act, and-
 - i) a certificate stating that the dispute remains unresolved has been issued; or
 - ii) a period of 30 days, or any extension of that period agreed to between the parties to the dispute, has elapsed since the referral was received by the council or the Commission; and after that-
 - b) in the case of a proposed strike, at least 48 hours' notice of the commencement of the strike, in writing, has been given to the employer, unless-
 - i) the issue in dispute relates to a collective agreement to be concluded in a Council, in which case, notice must have been given to that council; or
 - ii) the employer is a member of an employers' organisation that is a party to the dispute, in which case, notice must have been given to that employers' organization; or
 - c) in the case of a proposed lock-out, at least 48 hours' notice of the commencement of the lock-out, in writing, has been given to any trade union that is a party to the dispute, or, if there is no such trade union, to the employees, unless the issue in dispute relates to a collective agreement to be concluded in a council, in which case, notice must have been given to that council; or
 - d) in the case of a proposed strike or lock-out where the State is the employer, at least seven days' notice of the commencement of the strike or lock-out has been given to the parties contemplated in paragraphs (b) and (c).
- 2) If the issue in dispute concerns a refusal to bargain, an advisory award must have been made in terms of section 135(3)(c) before notice is given in terms of subsection (1)(b) or (c). A refusal to bargain includes-
- a) a refusal-
 - i) to recognise a trade union as a collective bargaining agent; or
 - ii) to agree to establish a bargaining council;
 - b) a withdrawal of recognition of a collective bargaining agent;
 - c) a resignation of a party from a bargaining council;
 - d) a dispute about-
 - i) appropriate bargaining units;
 - ii) appropriate bargaining levels; or
 - iii) bargaining subjects.

- 3) The requirements of subsection (1) do not apply to a strike or a lock-out if-
 - a) the parties to the dispute are members of a council, and the dispute has been dealt with by that council in accordance with its constitution;
 - b) the strike or lock-out conforms with the procedures in a collective agreement;
 - c) the employees strike in response to a lock-out by their employer that does not comply with the provisions of this Chapter;
 - d) the employer locks out its employees in response to their taking part in a strike that does not conform with the provisions of this Chapter; or
 - e) the employer fails to comply with the requirements of subsections (4) and (5).

- 4) Any employee who or any trade union that refers a dispute about a unilateral change to terms and conditions of employment to a council or the Commission in terms of subsection (1)(a) may, in the referral, and for the period referred to in subsection (1)(a)-
 - a) require the employer not to implement unilaterally the change to terms and conditions of employment; or
 - b) if the employer has already implemented the change unilaterally, require the employer to restore the terms and conditions of employment that applied before the change.

- 5) The employer must comply with a requirement in terms of subsection (4) within 48 hours of service of the referral on the employer.

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

65. Limitations on right to strike or recourse to lock-out

referenced by :

- 1) No person may take part in a strike or a lock-out or in any conduct in contemplation or furtherance of a strike or a lock-out if-
 - a) that person is bound by a collective agreement that prohibits a strike or lock-out in respect of the issue in dispute;
 - b) that person is bound by an agreement that requires the issue in dispute to be referred to arbitration;
 - c) the issue in dispute is one that a party has the right to refer to arbitration or to the Labour Court in terms of this Act;
 - d) that person is engaged in-
 - i) an essential service; or
 - ii) a maintenance service. (Essential services, agreed minimum services and maintenance services are regulated in sections 71 to 75.)

- 2)
 - a) Despite section 65(1)(c), a person may take part in a strike or a lock-out or in any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a strike or lock-out if the issue in dispute is about any matter dealt with in sections 12 to 15. (These sections deal with organisational rights.)
 - b) If the registered trade union has given notice of the proposed strike in terms of section 64(1) in respect of an issue in dispute referred to in paragraph (a), it may not exercise the right to refer the dispute to arbitration in terms of section 21 for a period of 12 months from the date of the notice.

- 3) Subject to a collective agreement, no person may take part in a strike or a lock-out or in any conduct in contemplation or furtherance of a strike or lock-out-
 - a) if that person is bound by-
 - i) any arbitration award or collective agreement that regulates the issue in dispute; or
 - ii) any determination made in terms of section 44 by the Minister that regulates the issue in dispute; or
 - b) any determination made in terms of the Wage Act and that regulates the issue in dispute, during the first year of that determination.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

66. Secondary strikes

referenced by :

- 1) In this section "secondary strike" means a strike, or conduct in contemplation or furtherance of a strike, that is in support of a strike by other employees against their employer but does not include a strike in pursuit of a demand that has been referred to a council if the striking employees, employed within the registered scope of that council, have a material interest in that demand.
- 2) No person may take part in a secondary strike unless-
 - a) the strike that is to be supported complies with the provisions of sections 64 and 65;
 - b) the employer of the employees taking part in the secondary strike or, where appropriate, the employers' organisation of which that employer is a member, has received written notice of the proposed secondary strike at least seven days prior to its commencement; and
 - c) the nature and extent of the secondary strike is reasonable in relation to the possible direct or indirect effect that the secondary strike may have on the business of the primary employer.
- 3) Subject to section 68(2) and (3), a secondary employer may apply to the Labour Court for an interdict to prohibit or limit a secondary strike that contravenes subsection (2).
- 4) Any person who is a party to proceedings in terms of subsection (3), or the Labour Court, may request the Commission to conduct an urgent investigation to assist the Court to determine whether the requirements of subsection (2)(c) have been met.
- 5) On receipt of a request made in terms of subsection (4), the Commission must appoint a suitably qualified person to conduct the investigation, and then submit, as soon as possible, a report to the Labour Court.
- 6) The Labour Court must take account of the Commission's report in terms of subsection (5) before making an order.

Labour Relations Act, 1995
Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs
67. Strike or lock-out in compliance with this Act

referenced by :

- 1) In this Chapter, "protected strike" means a strike that complies with the provisions of this Chapter and "protected lock-out" means a lock-out that complies with the provisions of this Chapter.
- 2) A person does not commit a delict or a breach of contract by taking part in-
 - a) a protected strike or a protected lock-out; or
 - b) any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a protected strike or a protected lock-out.
- 3) Despite subsection (2), an employer is not obliged to remunerate an employee for services that the employee does not render during a protected strike or a protected lock-out, however-
 - a) if the employee's remuneration includes payment in kind in respect of accommodation, the provision of food and other basic amenities of life, the employer, at the request of the employee, must not discontinue payment in kind during the strike or lock-out; and
 - b) after the end of the strike or lock-out, the employer may recover the monetary value of the payment in kind made at the request of the employee during the strike or lock-out from the employee by way of civil proceedings instituted in the Labour Court.
- 4) An employer may not dismiss an employee for participating in a protected strike or for any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a protected strike.
- 5) Subsection (4) does not preclude an employer from fairly dismissing an employee in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VIII for a reason related to the employee's conduct during the strike, or for a reason based on the employer's operational requirements.
- 6) Civil legal proceedings may not be instituted against any person for-
 - a) participating in a protected strike or a protected lock-out; or
 - b) any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a protected strike or a protected lock-out.
- 7) The failure by a registered trade union or a registered employers' organisation to comply with a provision in its constitution requiring it to conduct a ballot of those of its members in respect of whom it intends to call a strike or lock-out may not give rise to, or constitute a ground for, any litigation that will affect the legality of, and the protection conferred by this section on, the strike or lock-out.
- 8) The provisions of subsections (2) and (6) do not apply to any act in contemplation or in furtherance of a strike or a lock-out, if that act is an offense.

- 9) Any act in contemplation or in furtherance of a protected strike or a protected lock-out that is a contravention of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act or the Wage Act does not constitute an offense.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

68. Strike or lock-out not in compliance with this Act

referenced by :

- 1) In the case of any strike or lock-out, or any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a strike or lock-out, that does not comply with the provisions of this Chapter, the Labour Court has exclusive jurisdiction-
 - a) to grant an interdict or order to restrain- (See flow diagram No. 6 in Schedule 4)
 - i) any person from participating in a strike or any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a strike; or
 - ii) any person from participating in a lock-out or any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a lock-out;
 - b) to order the payment of just and equitable compensation for any loss attributable to the strike or lock-out, or conduct, having regard to-
 - i) whether-
 - (aa) attempts were made to comply with the provisions of this Chapter and the extent of those attempts;
 - (bb) the strike or lock-out or conduct was premeditated;
 - (cc) the strike or lock-out or conduct was in response to unjustified conduct by another party to the dispute; and
 - (dd) there was compliance with an order granted in terms of paragraph (a);
 - ii) the interests of orderly collective bargaining;
 - iii) the duration of the strike or lock-out or conduct and
 - iv) the financial position of the employer, trade union or employees respectively.
- 2) The Labour Court may not grant any order in terms of subsection (1)(a) unless 48 hours' notice of the application has been given to the respondent: However, the Court may permit a shorter period of notice if-
 - a) the applicant has given written notice to the respondent of the applicant's intention to apply for the granting of an order;
 - b) the respondent has been given a reasonable opportunity to be heard before a decision concerning that application is taken; and
 - c) the applicant has shown good cause why a period shorter than 48 hours should be permitted.
- 3) Despite subsection (2), if written notice of the commencement of the proposed strike or lock-out was given to the applicant at least 10 days before the commencement of the proposed strike or lock-out, the applicant must give at least five days' notice to the respondent of an application for an order in terms of subsection (1)(a).
- 4) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply to an employer or an employee engaged in an essential service or a maintenance service.

- 5) Participation in a strike that does not comply with the provisions of this Chapter, or conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of that strike, may constitute a fair reason for dismissal. In determining whether or not the dismissal is fair, the Code of Good Practice: Dismissal in Schedule 8 must be taken into account.

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

69. Picketing

referenced by:

See flow diagram No. 7 in Schedule 4.

- 1) A registered trade union may authorise a picket by its members and supporters for the purposes of peacefully demonstrating-
 - a) in support of any protected strike; or
 - b) in opposition to any lock-out.
- 2) Despite any law regulating the right of assembly, a picket authorised in terms of subsection (1), may be held -
 - a) in any place to which the public has access but outside the premises of an employer; or
 - b) with the permission of the employer, inside the employer's premises.
- 3) The permission referred to in subsection(2)(b) may not be unreasonably withheld.
- 4) If requested to do so by the registered trade union or the employer, the Commission must attempt to secure an agreement between the parties to the dispute on rules that should apply to any picket in relation to that strike or lock-out.
- 5) If there is no agreement, the Commission must establish picketing rules, and in doing so must take account of-
 - a) the particular circumstances of the workplace or other premises where it is intended that the right to picket is to be exercised; and
 - b) any relevant code of good practice.
- 6) The rules established by the Commission may provide for picketing by employees on their employer's premises if the Commission is satisfied that the employer's permission has been unreasonably withheld.
- 7) The provisions of section 67, read with the changes required by the context, apply to the call for, organisation of, or participation in a picket that complies with the provisions of this section.
- 8) Any party to a dispute about any of the following issues may refer the dispute in writing to the Commission-
 - a) an allegation that the effective use of the right to picket is being undermined;
 - b) an alleged material contravention of subsection (1) or (2);
 - c) an alleged material breach of an agreement concluded in terms of subsection (4);
or
 - d) an alleged material breach of a rule established in terms of subsection (5).

- 9) The party who refers the dispute to the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 10) The Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 11) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may refer it to the Labour Court for adjudication.

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

70. Essential services committee

- 1) The Minister, after consulting NEDLAC, and in consultation with the Minister for the Public Service and Administration, must establish an essential services committee under the auspices of the Commission and--
 - a) appoint to that committee, on any terms that the Minister considers fit, persons who have knowledge and experience of labour law and labour relations; and
 - b) designate one of the members of the committee as its chairperson.
- 2) The functions of the essential services committee are--
 - a) to conduct investigations as to whether or not the whole or a part of any service is an essential service, and then to decide whether or not to designate the whole or a part of that service as an essential service;
 - b) to determine disputes as to whether or not the whole or a part of any service is an essential service; and
 - c) to determine whether or not the whole or a part of any service is a maintenance service. (A maintenance service is defined in section 75.)
- 3) At the request of a bargaining council, the essential services committee must conduct an investigation in terms of subsection (2)(a).

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

71. Designating a service as an essential service

referenced by :

- 1) The essential services committee must give notice in the Government Gazette of any investigation that it is to conduct as to whether the whole or a part of a service is an essential service.
- 2) The notice must indicate the service or the part of a service that is to be the subject of the investigation and must invite interested parties, within a period stated in the notice--
 - a) to submit written representations; and
 - b) to indicate whether or not they require an opportunity to make oral representations.
- 3) Any interested party may inspect any written representations made pursuant to the notice, at the Commission's offices.

- 4) The Commission must provide a certified copy of, or extract from, any written representations to any person who has paid the prescribed fee.
- 5) The essential services committee must advise parties who wish to make oral representations of the place and time at which they may be made.
- 6) Oral representations must be made in public.
- 7) After having considered any written and oral representations, the essential services committee must decide whether or not to designate the whole or a part of the service that was the subject of the investigation as an essential service.
- 8) If the essential services committee designates the whole or a part of a service as an essential service, the committee must publish a notice to that effect in the Government Gazette. (These notices are reproduced here.)
- 9) The essential services committee may vary or cancel the designation of the whole or a part of a service as an essential service, by following the provisions set out in subsections (1) to (8), read with the changes required by the context.
- 10) The Parliamentary service and the South African Police Service are deemed to have been designated an essential service in terms of this section.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

72. Minimum services

- 1) The essential services committee may ratify any collective agreement that provides for the maintenance of minimum services in a service designated as an essential service, in which case -
 - a) the agreed minimum services are to be regarded as an essential service in respect of the employer and its employees; and
 - b) the provisions of section 74 do not apply.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

73. Disputes about whether a service is an essential service

- 1) Any party to a dispute about either of the following issues may refer the dispute in writing to the essential services committee:
 - a) whether or not a service is an essential service; or
 - b) whether or not an employee or employer is engaged in a service designated as an essential service.
- 2) The party who refers the dispute to the essential services committee must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 3) The essential services committee must determine the dispute as soon as possible.

74. Disputes in essential services

referenced by :

(See flow diagram No. 8 in Schedule 4.)

- 1) Any party to a dispute that is precluded from participating in a strike or a lock-out because that party is engaged in an essential service may refer the dispute in writing to-
 - a) a council, if the parties to the dispute fall within the registered scope of that council; or
 - b) the Commission, if no council has jurisdiction.
- 2) The party who refers the dispute must satisfy the council or the Commission that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 3) The council or the Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 4) If the dispute remains unresolved, any party to the dispute may request that the dispute be resolved through arbitration by the council or the Commission.
- 5) Any arbitration award in terms of subsection (4) made in respect of the State and that has financial implications for the State becomes binding-
 - a) 14 days after the date of the award, unless a Minister has tabled the award in Parliament within that period; or
 - b) 14 days after the date of tabling the award, unless Parliament has passed a resolution that the award is not binding.
- 6) If Parliament passes a resolution that the award is not binding, the dispute must be referred back to the Commission for further conciliation between the parties to the dispute and if that fails, any party to the dispute may request the Commission to arbitrate.
- 7) If Parliament is not in session on the expiry of-
 - a) the period referred to in subsection (5)(a), that period or the balance of that period will run from the beginning of the next session of Parliament;
 - b) the period referred to in subsection (5)(b), that period will run from the expiry of the period referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection or from the beginning of the next session of Parliament.

75. Maintenance services

referenced by :

- 1) A service is a maintenance service if the interruption of that service has the effect of material physical destruction to any working area, plant or machinery.
- 2) If there is no collective agreement relating to the provision of a maintenance service, an employer may apply in writing to the essential services committee for a determination that the whole or a part of the employer's business or service is a maintenance service.
- 3) The employer must satisfy the essential services committee that a copy of the application has been served on all interested parties.
- 4) The essential services committee must determine, as soon as possible, whether or not the whole or a part of the employer's business or service is a maintenance service.
- 5) As part of its determination in terms of subsection (4), the essential services committee may direct that any dispute in respect of which the employees engaged in a maintenance service would have had the right to strike, but for the provisions of section 65(1)(d)(ii), be referred to arbitration.
- 6) The committee may not make a direction in terms of subsection (5) if -
 - a) the terms and conditions of employment of the employees engaged in the maintenance service are determined by collective bargaining; or
 - b) the number of employees prohibited from striking because they are engaged in the maintenance service does not exceed the number of employees who are entitled to strike.
- 7) If a direction in terms of subsection (5) requires a dispute to be resolved by arbitration -
 - a) the provisions of section 74 will apply to the arbitration; and
 - b) any arbitration award will be binding on the employees engaged in the maintenance service and their employer, unless the terms of the award are varied by a collective agreement.

75. Maintenance services

referenced by :

- 1) A service is a maintenance service if the interruption of that service has the effect of material physical destruction to any working area, plant or machinery.
- 2) If there is no collective agreement relating to the provision of a maintenance service, an employer may apply in writing to the essential services committee for a determination that the whole or a part of the employer's business or service is a maintenance service.
- 3) The employer must satisfy the essential services committee that a copy of the application has been served on all interested parties.
- 4) The essential services committee must determine, as soon as possible, whether or not the whole or a part of the employer's business or service is a maintenance service.
- 5) As part of its determination in terms of subsection (4), the essential services committee may direct that any dispute in respect of which the employees engaged in a maintenance service would have had the right to strike, but for the provisions of section 65(1)(d)(ii), be referred to arbitration.
- 6) The committee may not make a direction in terms of subsection (5) if -
 - a) the terms and conditions of employment of the employees engaged in the maintenance service are determined by collective bargaining; or
 - b) the number of employees prohibited from striking because they are engaged in the maintenance service does not exceed the number of employees who are entitled to strike.
- 7) If a direction in terms of subsection (5) requires a dispute to be resolved by arbitration -
 - a) the provisions of section 74 will apply to the arbitration; and
 - b) any arbitration award will be binding on the employees engaged in the maintenance service and their employer, unless the terms of the award are varied by a collective agreement.

76. Replacement labour

referenced by :

- 1) An employer may not take into employment any person-
 - a) to continue or maintain production during a protected strike if the whole or a part of the employer's service has been designated a maintenance service; or
 - b) for the purpose of performing the work of any employee who is locked out, unless the lock-out is in response to a strike.
- 2) For the purpose of this section, "take into employment" includes engaging the services of a temporary employment service or an independent contractor.

Chapter IV: Strikes and Lock-outs

77. Protest action to promote or defend socio-economic interests of workers

referenced by :

- 1) Every employee who is not engaged in an essential service or a maintenance service has the right to take part in protest action if-
 - a) the protest action has been called by a registered trade union or federation of trade unions;
 - b) the registered trade union or federation of trade unions has served a notice on NEDLAC stating-
 - i) the reasons for the protest action; and
 - ii) the nature of the protest action;
 - c) the matter giving rise to the intended protest action has been considered by NEDLAC or any other appropriate forum in which the parties concerned are able to participate in order to resolve the matter; and
 - d) at least 14 days before the commencement of the protest action, the registered trade union or federation of trade unions has served a notice on NEDLAC of its intention to proceed with the protest action.
- 2) The Labour Court has exclusive jurisdiction-
 - a) to grant any order to restrain any person from taking part in protest action or in any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of protest action that does not comply with subsection (1);
 - b) in respect of protest action that complies with subsection (1), to grant a declaratory order contemplated by subsection (4), after having considered-
 - i) the nature and duration of the protest action;
 - ii) the steps taken by the registered trade union or federation of trade unions to minimise the harm caused by the protest action; and
 - iii) the conduct of the participants in the protest action.
- 3) A person who takes part in protest action or in any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of protest action that complies with subsection (1), enjoys the protections conferred by section 67.
- 4) Despite the provisions of subsection (3), an employee forfeits the protection against dismissal conferred by that subsection, if the employee-
 - a) takes part in protest action or any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of protest action in breach of an order of the Labour Court; or
 - b) otherwise acts in contempt of an order of the Labour Court made in terms of this section.

Chapter V: Workplace Forums
80. Establishment of workplace forum

referenced by :

- 1) A workplace forum may be established in any workplace in which an employer employs more than 100 employees.
- 2) Any representative trade union may apply to the Commission in the prescribed form for the establishment of a workplace forum.
- 3) The applicant must satisfy the Commission that a copy of the application has been served on the employer.
- 4) The Commission may require further information in support of the application.

- 5) The Commission must-
 - a) consider the application and any further information provided by the applicant; and
 - b) consider whether, in the workplace in respect of which the application has been made-
 - i) the employer employs 100 or more employees;
 - ii) the applicant is a representative trade union; and
 - iii) there is no functioning workplace forum established in terms of this Chapter.
- 6) If satisfied that the requirements of subsection (5) are met, the Commission must appoint a commissioner to assist the parties to establish a workplace forum by collective agreement or, failing that, to establish a workplace forum in terms of this Chapter.
- 7) The commissioner must convene a meeting with the applicant, the employer and any registered trade union that has members employed in the workplace, in order to facilitate the conclusion of a collective agreement between those parties, or at least between the applicant and the employer.
- 8) If a collective agreement is concluded, the provisions of this Chapter do not apply.
- 9) If a collective agreement is not concluded, the commissioner must meet the parties referred to in subsection (7) in order to facilitate agreement between them, or at least between the applicant and the employer, on the provisions of a constitution for a workplace forum in accordance with this Chapter, taking into account the guidelines in Schedule 2.
- 10) If no agreement is reached on any of the provisions of a constitution, the commissioner must establish a workplace forum and determine the provisions of the constitution in accordance with this Chapter, taking into account the guidelines in Schedule 2.
- 11) After the workplace forum has been established, the commissioner must set a date for the election of the first members of the workplace forum and appoint an election officer to conduct the election.
- 12) The provisions of this section do not apply to the public service. The establishment of workplace forums in the public service will be regulated in a Schedule promulgated by the Minister for the Public Service and Administration in terms of section 207(4).

135. Resolution of disputes through conciliation

referenced by:

- 1) When a dispute has been referred to the Commission, the Commission must appoint a commissioner to attempt to resolve it through conciliation.
- 2) The appointed commissioner must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation within 30 days of the date the Commission received the referral: However the parties may agree to extend the 30-day period.
- 3) The commissioner must determine a process to attempt to resolve the dispute, which may include-
 - a) mediating the dispute;
 - b) conducting a fact-finding exercise; and
 - c) making a recommendation to the parties, which may be in the form of an advisory arbitration award.
- 3A) If a single commissioner has been appointed, in terms of subsection (1), in respect of more than one dispute involving the same parties, that commissioner may consolidate the conciliation proceedings so that all the disputes concerned may be dealt with in the asme proceedings.
- 4) [deleted by the Labour Relations Amendment Act, 2002].
- 5) When the conciliation has failed, or at the end of the 30-day period or any further period agreed between the parties-
 - a) the commissioner must issue a certificate stating whether or not the dispute has been resolved;
 - b) the Commission must serve a copy of that certificate on each party to the dispute or the person who represented a party in the conciliation proceedings; and
 - c) the commissioner must file the original of that certificate with the Commission.
- 6)
 - a) If a dispute about a matter of mutual interest has been referred to the Commission and the parties to the dispute are engaged in an essential service then, despite subsection (1), the parties may consent within seven days of the date the Commission received the referral-
 - i) to the appointment of a specific commissioner by the Commission to attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation; and
 - ii) to that commissioner's terms of reference.
 - b) If the parties do not consent to either of those matters within the seven-day period, the Commission must as soon as possible-
 - i) appoint a commissioner to attempt to resolve the dispute; and
 - ii) determine the commissioner's terms of reference.

Chapter VII: Dispute Resolution

Part C: Resolution of Disputes under auspices of Commission

136. Appointment of commissioner to resolve dispute through arbitration

referenced by :

- 1) If this Act requires a dispute to be resolved through arbitration, the Commission must appoint a commissioner to arbitrate that dispute, if-
 - a) a commissioner has issued a certificate stating that the dispute remains unresolved; and
 - b) within 90 days after the date on which that certificate was issued, any party to the dispute has requested that the dispute be resolved through arbitration. However, the Commission, on good cause shown, may condone a party's non-observance of that timeframe and allow a request for arbitration filed by the party after the expiry of the 90-day period.
- 2) A commissioner appointed in terms of subsection (1) may be the same commissioner who attempted to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 3) Any party to the dispute, who wants to object to the arbitration also being conducted by the commissioner who had attempted to resolve the dispute through conciliation, may do so by filing an objection in that regard with the Commission within seven days after the date on which the commissioner's certificate was issued, and must satisfy the Commission that a copy of the objection has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 4) When the Commission receives an objection it must appoint another commissioner to resolve the dispute by arbitration.
- 5)
 - a) The parties to a dispute may request the Commission, in appointing a commissioner in terms of subsection (1) or (4), to take into account their stated preference, to the extent that this is reasonably practicable in all the circumstances.
 - b) The stated preference contemplated in paragraph (a) must-
 - i) be in writing;
 - ii) list no more than five commissioners;
 - iii) state that the request is made with the agreement of all the parties to the dispute; and
 - iv) be submitted within 48 hours of the date of the certificate referred to in subsection (1)(a).
- 6) If the circumstances contemplated in subsection (1) exist and the parties to the dispute are engaged in an essential service, then the provisions of section 135(6) apply, read with the changes required by the context, to the appointment of a commissioner to resolve the dispute through arbitration.

137. Appointment of senior commissioner to resolve dispute through arbitration

referenced by :

- 1) In the circumstances contemplated in section 136(1), any party to the dispute may apply to the director to appoint a senior commissioner to attempt to resolve the dispute through arbitration.
- 2) When considering whether the dispute should be referred to a senior commissioner, the director must hear the party making the application, any other party to the dispute and the commissioner who conciliated the dispute.
- 3) The director may appoint a senior commissioner to resolve the dispute through arbitration, after having considered-
 - a) the nature of the questions of law raised by the dispute;
 - b) the complexity of the dispute;
 - c) whether there are conflicting arbitration awards that are relevant to the dispute;
and
 - d) the public interest.
- 4) The director must notify the parties to the dispute of the decision and-
 - a) if the application has been granted, appoint a senior commissioner to arbitrate the dispute; or
 - b) if the application has been refused, confirm the appointment of the commissioner initially appointed, subject to section 136(4).
- 5) The director's decision is final and binding.
- 6) No person may apply to any court of law to review the director's decision until the dispute has been arbitrated.

138. General provisions for arbitration proceedings

referenced by :

- 1) The commissioner may conduct the arbitration in a manner that the commissioner considers appropriate in order to determine the dispute fairly and quickly, but must deal with the substantial merits of the dispute with the minimum of legal formalities.
- 2) Subject to the discretion of the commissioner as to the appropriate form of the proceedings, a party to the dispute may give evidence, call witnesses, question the witnesses of any other party, and address concluding arguments to the commissioner.

- 3) If all the parties consent, the commissioner may suspend the arbitration proceedings and attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 4) [deleted by the Labour Relations Amendment Act, 2002]
- 5) If a party to the dispute fails to appear in person or to be represented at the arbitration proceedings, and that party-
 - a) had referred the dispute to the Commission, the commissioner may dismiss the matter; or
 - b) had not referred the dispute to the Commission, the commissioner may-
 - i) continue with the arbitration proceedings in the absence of that party; or
 - ii) adjourn the arbitration proceedings to a later date.
- 6) The commissioner must take into account any code of good practice that has been issued by NEDLAC or guidelines published by the Commission in accordance with the provisions of this Act that is relevant to a matter being considered in the arbitration proceedings.
- 7) Within 14 days of the conclusion of the arbitration proceedings:
 - a) the commissioner must issue an arbitration award with brief reasons, signed by that commissioner;
 - b) the Commission must serve a copy of that award on each party to the dispute or the person who represented a party in the arbitration proceedings; and
 - c) the Commission must file the original of that award with the registrar of the Labour Court.
- 8) On good cause shown, the director may extend the period within which the arbitration award and the reasons are to be served and filed.
- 9) The commissioner may make any appropriate arbitration award in terms of this Act, including, but not limited to, an award-
 - a) that gives effect to any collective agreement;
 - b) that gives effect to the provisions and primary objects of this Act;
 - c) that includes, or is in the form of, a declaratory order.
- 10) The commissioner may make an order for the payment of costs according to the requirements of law and fairness in accordance with rules made by the Commission in terms of section 115(2A)(j) and having regard to-
 - a) any relevant Code of Good Practice issued by NEDLAC in terms of section 203;
 - b) any relevant guideline issued by the Commission.

Chapter VII: Dispute Resolution

Part C: Resolution of Disputes under auspices of Commission

141. Resolution of disputes if parties consent to arbitration under auspices of Commission

- 1) If a dispute remains unresolved after conciliation, the Commission must arbitrate the dispute if a party to the dispute would otherwise be entitled to refer the dispute to the Labour Court for adjudication and, instead, all the parties agree in writing to arbitration under the auspices of the Commission.
- 2) The arbitration proceedings must be conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 136, 137 and 138, read with the changes required by the context.
- 3) The arbitration agreement contemplated in subsection (1) may be terminated only with the written consent of all the parties to that agreement, unless the agreement itself provides otherwise.
- 4) Any party to the arbitration agreement may apply to the Labour Court at any time to vary or set aside that agreement, which the Court may do on good cause.
- 5)
 - a) If any party to an arbitration agreement commences proceedings in the Labour Court against any other party to that agreement about any matter that the parties agreed to refer to arbitration, any party to those proceedings may ask the Court-
 - i) to stay those proceedings and refer the dispute to arbitration; or
 - ii) with the consent of the parties and where it is expedient to do so, continue with the proceedings with the Court acting as arbitrator in which case the Court may only make an order corresponding to the award that an arbitrator could have made.
 - b) If the Court is satisfied that there is sufficient reason for the dispute to be referred to arbitration in accordance with the arbitration agreement, the Court may stay those proceedings, on any conditions.

- 6) If the provisions of subsection (1) apply, the commissioner may make an award that the Labour Court could have made.

142. Powers of commissioner when attempting to resolve disputes

referenced by:

- 1) A commissioner who has been appointed to attempt to resolve a dispute may-
 - a) subpoena for questioning any person who may be able to give information or whose presence at the conciliation or arbitration proceedings may help to resolve the dispute,
 - b) subpoena any person who is believed to have possession or control of any book, document or object relevant to the resolution of the dispute, to appear before the commissioner to be questioned or to produce that book, document or object;
 - c) call, and if necessary subpoena, any expert to appear before the commissioner to give evidence relevant to the resolution of the dispute;
 - d) call any person present at the conciliation or arbitration proceedings or who was or could have been subpoenaed for any purpose set out in this section, to be questioned about any matter relevant to the dispute;
 - e) administer an oath or accept an affirmation from any person called to give evidence or be questioned;
 - f) at any reasonable time, but only after obtaining the necessary written authorisation-
 - i) enter and inspect any premises on or in which any book, document or object, relevant to the resolution of the dispute is to be found or is suspected on reasonable grounds of being found there; and
 - ii) examine, demand the production of, and seize any book, document or object that is on or in those premises and that is relevant to the resolution of the dispute; and
 - iii) take a statement in respect of any matter relevant to the resolution of the dispute from any person on the premises who is willing to make a statement; and
 - g) inspect, and retain for a reasonable period, any of the books, documents or objects that have been produced to, or seized by, the Commission.
- 2) A subpoena issued for any purpose in terms of subsection (1) must be signed by the director and must-
 - a) specifically require the person named in it to appear before the commissioner;
 - b) sufficiently identify the book, document or object to be produced; and
 - c) state the date, time and place at which the person is to appear.
- 3) The written authorisation referred to in subsection (1)(f)-

- a) if it relates to residential premises, may be given only by a judge of the Labour Court and with due regard to section 13 of the Constitution, and then only on the application of the commissioner setting out under oath or affirmation the following information-
 - i) the nature of the dispute;
 - ii) the relevance of any book, document or object to the resolution of the dispute;
 - iii) the presence of any book, document or object on the premises; and
 - iv) the need to enter, inspect or seize the book, document or object; and
 - b) in all other cases, may be given by the director.
- 4) The owner or occupier of any premises that a commissioner is authorised to enter and inspect, and every person employed by that owner or occupier, must provide any facilities that a commissioner requires to enter those premises and to carry out the inspection or seizure.
 - 5) The commissioner must issue a receipt for any book, document or object seized in terms of subsection (4).
 - 6) The law relating to privilege, as it applies to a witness subpoenaed to give evidence or to produce any book, document or object before a court of law, applies equally to the questioning of any person or the production or seizure of any book, document or object in terms of this section.
 - 7) The Commission must pay the prescribed witness fee to each person who appears before a commissioner in response to a subpoena issued by the commissioner.
 - 8) Any person who requests the Commission to issue a subpoena must pay the prescribed witness fee to each person who appears before a commissioner in response to the subpoena and who remains in attendance until excused by the commissioner.
 - 9) The Commission may on good cause shown waive the requirement in paragraph (b) and pay to the witness the prescribed witness fee.
 - 10) A person commits contempt of the Commission-
 - a) if, after having been subpoenaed to appear before the commissioner, the person without good cause does not attend at the time and place stated in the subpoena;
 - b) if, after having appeared in response to a subpoena, that person fails to remain in attendance until excused by the commissioner;
 - c) by refusing to take the oath or to make an affirmation as a witness when a commissioner so requires;
 - d) by refusing to answer any question fully and to the best of that person's knowledge and belief subject to subsection (6);
 - e) if the person, without good cause, fails to produce any book, document or object specified in a subpoena to a commissioner;
 - f) if the person willfully hinders a commissioner in performing any function conferred by or in terms of this Act;
 - g) if the person insults, disparages or belittles a commissioner, or prejudices or improperly influences the proceedings or improperly anticipates the commissioner's award;
 - h) by willfully interrupting the conciliation or arbitration proceedings or misbehaving in any other manner during those proceedings;
 - i) by doing anything else in relation to the Commission which, if done in relation to a court of law, would have been contempt of court.

- 11)
 - a) A commissioner may make a finding that a party is in contempt of the Commission for any of the reasons set out in subsection (8).
 - b) The commissioner may refer the finding, together with the record of the proceedings, to the Labour Court for its decision in terms of subsection (11).
- 12) Before making a decision in terms of subsection (11), the Labour Court-
 - a) must subpoena any person found in contempt to appear before it on a date determined by the Court;
 - b) may subpoena any other person to appear before it on a date determined by the Court; and
 - c) may make any order that it deems appropriate, including an order in the case of a person who is not a legal practitioner that the person's right to represent a party in the Commission and the Labour Court be suspended.
 - d) The Labour Court may confirm, vary or set aside the finding of a commissioner.
 - e) If any person fails to appear before the Labour Court pursuant to a subpoena issued in terms of subsection (10)(a), the Court may make any order that it deems appropriate in the absence of that person.

145. Review of arbitration awards

referenced by :

- 1) Any party to a dispute who alleges a defect in any arbitration proceedings under the auspices of the Commission may apply to the Labour Court for an order setting aside the arbitration award-
 - a) within six weeks of the date that the award was served on the applicant, unless the alleged defect involves corruption; or
 - b) if the alleged defect involves corruption, within six weeks of the date that the applicant discovers the corruption.
- 1A) The Labour Court may on good cause shown condone the late filing of an application in terms of subsection (1).
- 2) A defect referred to in subsection (1), means-
 - a) that the commissioner-
 - i) committed misconduct in relation to the duties of the commissioner as an arbitrator;
 - ii) committed a gross irregularity in the conduct of the arbitration proceedings; or
 - iii) exceeded the commissioner's powers; or
 - b) that an award has been improperly obtained.
- 3) The Labour Court may stay the enforcement of the award pending its decision.
- 4) If the award is set aside, the Labour Court may-
 - a) determine the dispute in the manner it considers appropriate; or
 - b) make any order it considers appropriate about the procedures to be followed to determine the dispute.

147. Performance of dispute resolution functions by Commission in exceptional circumstances

 - a) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Commission, it becomes apparent that the dispute is about the interpretation or application of a collective agreement, the Commission may-
 - i) refer the dispute for resolution in terms of the procedures provided for in that collective agreement; or
 - ii) appoint a commissioner or, if one has been appointed, confirm the appointment of the commissioner, to resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
 - b) The Commission may charge the parties to a collective agreement a fee for performing the dispute resolution functions if-
 - i) their collective agreement does not provide a procedure as required by section 24(1); (Section 24(1) states that every collective agreement must provide for a procedure to resolve any dispute about the interpretation or application of the collective agreement.) or
 - ii) the procedure provided in the collective agreement is not operative.
 - c) The Commission may charge a party to a collective agreement a fee if that party has frustrated the resolution of the dispute.
- 2)
 - a) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Commission, it becomes apparent that the parties to the dispute are parties to a council, the Commission may-
 - i) refer the dispute to the council for resolution; or
 - ii) appoint a commissioner or, if one has been appointed, confirm the appointment of the commissioner, to resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
 - b) The Commission may charge the parties to a council a fee for performing the dispute resolution functions if the council's dispute resolution procedures are not operative.

- 3)
 - a) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Commission, it becomes apparent that the parties to the dispute fall within the registered scope of a council and that one or more parties to the dispute are not parties to the council, the Commission may-
 - i) refer the dispute to the council for resolution; or
 - ii) appoint a commissioner or, if one has been appointed, confirm the appointment of the commissioner, to resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
 - b) The Commission may charge the parties to a council a fee for performing the dispute resolution functions if the council's dispute resolution procedures are not operative.
- 4)
 - a) If a dispute has been referred to the Commission and not all the parties to the dispute fall within the registered scope of a council or fall within the registered scope of two or more councils, the Commission must resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
 - b) In the circumstances contemplated in paragraph (a), the Commission has exclusive jurisdiction to resolve that dispute.
- 5)
 - a) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Commission, it becomes apparent that the dispute ought to have been referred to an accredited agency, the Commission may-
 - i) refer the dispute to the accredited agency for resolution; or
 - ii) appoint a commissioner to resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
 - b) The Commission may-
 - i) charge the accredited agency a fee for performing the dispute resolution functions if the accredited agency's dispute resolution procedures are not operative; and
 - ii) review the continued accreditation of that agency.
- 6) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Commission, it becomes apparent that the dispute ought to have been resolved through private dispute resolution in terms of a private agreement between the parties to the dispute, the Commission may-
 - a) refer the dispute to the appropriate person or body for resolution through private dispute resolution procedures; or
 - b) appoint a commissioner to resolve the dispute in terms of this Act.
- 7) Where the Commission refers the dispute in terms of this section to a person or body other than a commissioner the date of the Commission's initial receipt of the dispute will be deemed to be the date on which the Commission referred the dispute elsewhere.
- 8) The Commission may perform any of the dispute resolution functions of a council or an accredited agency appointed by the council if the council or accredited agency fails to perform its dispute resolution functions in circumstances where, in law, there is an obligation to perform them.
- 9) For the purposes of subsections (2) and (3), a party to a council includes the members of a registered trade union or registered employers' organisation that is a party to the council.

 - iv) a declaratory order;
 - v) an award of compensation in any circumstances contemplated in this Act;
 - vi) an award of damages in any circumstances contemplated in this Act; and
 - vii) an order for costs;
 - b) order compliance with any provision of this Act;
 - c) make any arbitration award or any settlement agreement an order of the Court;
 - d) request the Commission to conduct an investigation to assist the Court and to submit a report to the Court;

 - e) determine a dispute between a registered trade union or registered employers' organisation, and any one of the members or applicants for membership thereof about any alleged non-compliance with -
 - i) the constitution of that trade union or employers' organisation (as the case may be); or
 - ii) section 26(5)(b) .
 - f) subject to the provisions of this Act, condone the late filing of any document with, or the late referral of any dispute to, the Court;
 - g) subject to section 145, review the performance or purported performance of any function provided for in this Act on any grounds that are permissible in law;
 - h) review any decision taken or any act performed by the State in its capacity as employer, on such grounds as are permissible in law;
 - i) hear and determine any appeal in terms of section 35 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act, 1993 (Act No. 85 of 1993); and

- j) deal with all matters necessary or incidental to performing its functions in terms of this Act or any other law.
- 1A) For the purposes of subsection (1)(c), a settlement agreement is a written agreement in settlement of a dispute that a party has the right to refer to arbitration or to the Labour Court, excluding a dispute that a party is only entitled to refer to arbitration in terms of section 22(4), 74(4) or 75(7).
 - 2) If at any stage after a dispute has been referred to the Labour Court, it becomes apparent that the dispute ought to have been referred to arbitration, the Court may-
 - a) stay the proceedings and refer the dispute to arbitration; or
 - b) with the consent of the parties and if it is expedient to do so, continue with the proceedings with the Court sitting as an arbitrator, in which case the Court may only make any order that a commissioner or arbitrator would have been entitled to make.
 - 3) The reference to "arbitration" in subsection (2) must be interpreted to include arbitration-
 - a) under the auspices of the Commission;
 - b) under the auspices of an accredited council;
 - c) under the auspices of an accredited agency;
 - d) in accordance with a private dispute resolution procedure; or
 - e) if the dispute is about the interpretation or application of a collective agreement.
 - 4)
 - a) The Labour Court, on its own accord or, at the request of any party to the proceedings before it may reserve for the decision of the Labour Appeal Court any question of law that arises in those proceedings.
 - b) A question may be reserved only if it is decisive for the proper adjudication of the dispute.
Pending the decision of the Labour Appeal Court on any question of law reserved in terms of paragraph (a), the Labour Court may make any interim order.

- 1) Every employee has the right not to be-
 - a) unfairly dismissed and
 - b) subjected to unfair labour practice.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

186. Meaning of dismissal and unfair labour practice

referenced by :

- 1) "Dismissal" means that-
 - a) an employer has terminated a contract of employment with or without notice;
 - b) an employee reasonably expected the employer to renew a fixed term contract of employment on the same or similar terms but the employer offered to renew it on less favourable terms, or did not renew it;
 - c) an employer refused to allow an employee to resume work after she-
 - d) took maternity leave in terms of any law, collective agreement or her contract of employment; or
 - e) was absent from work for up to four weeks before the expected date, and up to eight weeks after the actual date, of the birth of her child;
 - f) an employer who dismissed a number of employees for the same or similar reasons has offered to re-employ one or more of them but has refused to re-employ another; or an employee terminated a contract of employment with or without notice because the employer made continued employment intolerable for the employee. an employee terminated a contract of employment with or without notice because the new employer, after a transfer in terms of section 197 or section 197A, provided the employee with conditions or circumstances at work that are substantially less favourable to the employee than those provided by the old employer.
 - g) Unfair labour practice' means any unfair act or omission that arises between an employer and an employee involving-

- h) unfair conduct by the employer relating to the promotion, demotion, probation (excluding disputes about dismissals for a reason relating to probation) or training of an employee or relating to the provision of benefits to an employee;
- i) the unfair suspension of an employee or any other unfair disciplinary action short of dismissal in respect of an employee;
- j) a failure or refusal by an employer to reinstate or re-employ a former employee in terms of any agreement; and
- k) an occupational detriment, other than dismissal, in contravention of the Protected Disclosures Act, 2000 (Act No. 26 of 2000), on account of the employee having made a protected disclosure defined in that Act."

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

187. Automatically unfair dismissals

referenced by :

- 1) A dismissal is automatically unfair if the employer, in dismissing the employee, acts contrary to section 5 (Section 5 confers protections relating to the right to freedom of association and on members of workplace forums.) or, if the reason for the dismissal is-
 - a) that the employee participated in or supported, or indicated an intention to participate in or support, a strike or protest action that complies with the provisions of Chapter IV;
 - i) (Chapter IV deals with industrial action and conduct in support of industrial action. Section 67(4) or (5) provide-
 - ii) "(4) An employer may not dismiss an employee for participating in a protected strike or for any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of a protected strike.
 - iii) (5) Subsection (4) does not preclude an employer from fairly dismissing an employee in compliance with the provisions of Chapter VIII for a reason related to the employee's operational requirements."
Section 77(3) provides-
"A person who takes part in protest action or in any conduct in contemplation or in furtherance of protest action that complies with subsection (1), enjoys the protections conferred by section 67."
 - b) that the employee refused, or indicated an intention to refuse, to do any work normally done by an employee who at the time was taking part in a strike that complies with the provisions of Chapter IV or was locked out, unless that work is necessary to prevent an actual danger to life, personal safety or health;
 - c) to compel the employee to accept a demand in respect of any matter of mutual interest between the employer and employee;
 - d) that the employee took action, or indicated an intention to take action against the employer by-
 - i) exercising any right conferred by this Act; or
 - ii) participating in any proceedings in terms of this Act;
 - e) the employee's pregnancy, intended pregnancy, or any reason related to her pregnancy;
 - f) that the employer unfairly discriminated against an employee, directly or indirectly, on any arbitrary ground, including, but not limited to race, gender, sex, ethnic or social origin, colour, sexual orientation, age, disability, religion, conscience, belief, political opinion, culture, language, marital status or family responsibility.
 - g) a transfer, or a reason related to a transfer, contemplated in section 197 or 197A;
or

- h) a contravention of the Protected Disclosures Act, 2000, by the employer, on account of an employee having made a protected disclosure defined in that Act.
- 2) Despite subsection (1)(f)-
- a) a dismissal may be fair if the reason for dismissal is based on an inherent requirement of the particular job;
 - b) a dismissal based on age is fair if the employee has reached the normal or agreed retirement age for persons employed in that capacity.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

188. Other unfair dismissals

- 1) A dismissal that is not automatically unfair, is unfair if the employer fails to prove-
- a) that the reason for dismissal is a fair reason-
 - i) related to the employee's conduct or capacity; or
 - ii) based on the employer's operational requirements; and
 - b) that the dismissal was effected in accordance with a fair procedure.
- 2) Any person considering whether or not the reason for dismissal is a fair reason or whether or not the dismissal was effected in accordance with a fair procedure must take into account any relevant code of good practice issued in terms of this Act .(See Schedule 8, the Code of Good Practice: Dismissal.)

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal

188A : Agreement for pre-dismissal arbitration

- 1) An employer may, with the consent of the employee, request a council, an accredited agency or the Commission to conduct an arbitration into allegations about the conduct or capacity of that employee.
- 2) The request must be in the prescribed form.
- 3) The council, accredited agency or the Commission must appoint an arbitrator on receipt of-
- a) payment by the employer of the prescribed fee; and
 - b) the employee's written consent to the inquiry.
- 4)
- a) An employee may only consent to a pre-dismissal arbitration after the employee has been advised of the allegation referred to in subsection (1) and in respect of a specific arbitration.
 - b) Despite subparagraph (a), an employee earning more than the amount determined by the Minister in terms of section 6(3) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act, may consent to the holding of a pre-dismissal arbitration in a contract of employment.
- 5) In any arbitration in terms of this section a party to the dispute may appear in person or be represented only by-
- a) a co-employee;
 - b) a director or employee, if the party is a juristic person;

- c) any member, office bearer or official of that party's registered trade union or registered employers' organisation; or
 - d) a legal practitioner, on agreement between the parties.
- 6) Section 138, read with the changes required by the context, applies to any arbitration in terms of this section.
- 7) An arbitrator appointed in terms of this section has all the powers conferred on a commissioner by section 142(1)(a) to (e), (2) and (7) to (9), read with the changes required by the context, and any reference in that section to the director for the purpose of this section, must be read as a reference to-
- a) the secretary of the council, if the arbitration is held under the auspices of the council;
 - b) the director of the accredited agency, if the arbitration is held under the auspices of an accredited agency.
- 8) The provisions of sections 143 to 146 apply to any award made by an arbitrator in terms of this section.
- 9) An arbitrator conducting an arbitration in terms of this section must, in the light of the evidence presented and by reference to the criteria of fairness in the Act, direct what action, if any, should be taken against the employee.
- 10)
- a) A private agency may only conduct an arbitration in terms of this section if it is accredited for this purpose by the Commission.
 - b) A council may only conduct an arbitration in terms of this section in respect of which the employer or the employee is not a party to the council, if the council has been accredited for this purpose by the Commission.

189. Dismissals based on operational requirements

referenced by :

(View the Code of Good Practice on Dismissal based on Operational Requirements)

- 1) When an employer contemplates dismissing one or more employees for reasons based on the employer's operational requirements, the employer must consult-
- a) any person whom the employer is required to consult in terms of a collective agreement;
 - b) if there is no collective agreement that requires consultation -
 - i) a workplace forum, if the employees likely to be affected by the proposed dismissals are employed in a workplace in respect of which there is a workplace forum and;
 - ii) any registered trade union whose members are likely to be affected by the proposed dismissals;
 - c) if there is no workplace forum in the workplace in which the employees likely to be affected by the proposed dismissals are employed, any registered trade union whose members are likely to be affected by the proposed dismissals; or

- d) if there is no such trade union, the employees likely to be affected by the proposed dismissals or their representatives nominated for that purpose.
- 2) The employer and the other consulting parties must in the consultation envisaged by subsections (1) and (3) engage in a meaningful joint consensus-seeking process and attempt to reach consensus on-
- a) appropriate measures-
 - i) to avoid the dismissals;
 - ii) to minimise the number of dismissals;
 - iii) to change the timing of the dismissals; and
 - iv) to mitigate the adverse effects of the dismissals;
 - b) the method for selecting the employees to be dismissed; and
 - c) the severance pay for dismissed employees.
- 3) The employer must disclose in writing to issue a written notice inviting the other consulting party to consult with and disclose in writing all relevant information, including, but not limited to-
- a) the reasons for the proposed dismissals;
 - b) the alternatives that the employer considered before proposing the dismissals, and the reasons for rejecting each of those alternatives;
 - c) the number of employees likely to be affected and the job categories in which they are employed;
 - d) the proposed method for selecting which employees to dismiss;
 - e) the time when, or the period during which, the dismissals are likely to take effect;
 - f) the severance pay proposed;
 - g) any assistance that the employer proposes to offer to the employees likely to be dismissed;
 - h) the possibility of the future re-employment of the employees who are dismissed.
 - i) the number of employees employed by the employer; and
 - j) the number of employees that the employer has dismissed for reasons based on its operational requirements in the preceding 12 months.
- 4)
- a) The provisions of section 16 apply, read with the changes required by the context, to the disclosure of information in terms of subsection (3).
 - b) In any dispute in which an arbitrator or the Labour Court is required to decide whether or not any information is relevant, the onus is on the employer to prove that any information that it has refused to disclose is not relevant for the purposes for which it is sought.
- 5) The employer must allow the other consulting party an opportunity during consultation to make representations about any matter dealt with in subsections (2), (3) and (4) as well as any other matter relating to the proposed dismissals.
- 6)
- a) The employer must consider and respond to the representations made by the other consulting party and, if the employer does not agree with them, the employer must state the reasons for disagreeing.
 - b) If any representation is made in writing the employer must respond in writing.
- 7) The employer must select the employees to be dismissed according to selection criteria-
- a) that have been agreed to by the consulting parties; or
 - b) if no criteria have been agreed, criteria that are fair and objective.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

189A : Dismissals based on operational requirements by employers with more than 50 employees

- 1) This section applies to employers employing more than 50 employees if-
 - a) the employer contemplates dismissing by reason of the employer's operational requirements, at least-
 - i) 10 employees, if the employer employs up to 200 employees;
 - ii) 20 employees, if the employer employs more than 200, but not more than 300, employees;
 - iii) 30 employees, if the employer employs more than 300, but not more than 400, employees;
 - iv) 40 employees, if the employer employs more than 400, but not more than 500, employees; or
 - v) 50 employees, if the employer employs more than 500 employees; or
 - b) the number of employees that the employer contemplates dismissing together with the number of employees that have been dismissed by reason of the employer's operational requirements in the 12 months prior to the employer issuing a notice in terms of section 189(3), is equal to or exceeds the relevant number specified in paragraph (a).
- 2) In respect of any dismissal covered by this section-
 - a) an employer must give notice of termination of employment in accordance with the provisions of this section;
 - b) despite section 65(1)(c), an employee may participate in a strike and an employer may lock out in accordance with the provisions of this section;
 - c) the consulting parties may agree to vary the time periods for facilitation or consultation.
- 3) The Commission must appoint a facilitator in terms of any regulations made under subsection (6) to assist the parties engaged in consultations if-
 - a) the employer has in its notice in terms of section 189(3) requested facilitation; or
 - b) consulting parties representing the majority of employees whom the employer contemplates dismissing have requested facilitation and have notified the Commission within 15 days of the notice.
- 4) This section does not prevent an agreement to appoint a facilitator in circumstances not contemplated in subsection (3).
- 5) If a facilitator is appointed in terms of subsection (3) or (4) the facilitation must be conducted in terms of any regulations made by the Minister under subsection (6) for the conduct of such facilitations.
- 6) The Minister, after consulting NEDLAC and the Commission, may make regulations relating to-
 - a) the time period, and the variation of time periods, for facilitation;
 - b) the powers and duties of facilitators;
 - c) the circumstances in which the Commission may charge a fee for appointing a facilitator and the amount of the fee; and
 - d) any other matter necessary for the conduct of facilitations.

- 7) If a facilitator is appointed in terms of subsection (3) or (4), and 60 days have elapsed from the date on which notice was given in terms of section 189(3)-
 - a) the employer may give notice to terminate the contracts of employment in accordance with section 37(1) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act; and
 - b) a registered trade union or the employees who have received notice of termination may either-
 - i) give notice of a strike in terms of section 64(1)(b) or (d); or
 - ii) refer a dispute concerning whether there is a fair reason for the dismissal to the Labour Court in terms of section 191(11).

- 8) If a facilitator is not appointed-
 - a) a party may not refer a dispute to a council or the Commission unless a period of 30 days has lapsed from the date on which notice was given in terms of section 189(3); and
 - b) once the periods mentioned in section 64(1)(a) have elapsed-
 - i) the employer may give notice to terminate the contracts of employment in accordance with section 37(1) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act; and
 - ii) a registered trade union or the employees who have received notice of termination may-
 - (aa) give notice of a strike in terms of section 64(1)(b) or (d); or
 - (bb) refer a dispute concerning whether there is a fair reason for the dismissal to the Labour Court in terms of section 191(11).

- 9) Notice of the commencement of a strike may be given if the employer dismisses or gives notice of dismissal before the expiry of the periods referred to in subsections (7)(a) or (8)(b)(i).
 - a) A consulting party may not-
 - i) give notice of a strike in terms of this section in respect of a dismissal, if it has referred a dispute concerning whether there is a fair reason for that dismissal to the Labour Court;
 - ii) refer a dispute about whether there is a fair reason for a dismissal to the Labour Court, if it has given notice of a strike in terms of this section in respect of that dismissal.
 - b) If a trade union gives notice of a strike in terms of this section-
 - i) no member of that trade union, and no employee to whom a collective agreement concluded by that trade union dealing with consultation or facilitation in respect of dismissals by reason of the employers operational requirements has been extended in terms of section 23(1)(d), may refer a dispute concerning whether there is a fair reason for dismissal to the Labour Court;
 - ii) any referral to the Labour Court contemplated by subparagraph (i) that has been made, is deemed to be withdrawn.

- 10) The following provisions of Chapter IV apply to any strike or lock-out in terms of this section:
 - a) Section 64(1) and (3)(a) to (d), except that-
 - b) section 64(1)(a) does not apply if a facilitator is appointed in terms of this section;
 - c) an employer may only lock out in respect of a dispute in which a strike notice has been issued;
 - d) subsection (2)(a), section 65(1) and (3);
 - e) section 66 except that written notice of any proposed secondary strike must be given at least 14 days prior to the commencement of the strike;
 - f) sections 67, 68, 69 and 76.

- 11) During the 14-day period referred to in subsection (11)(c), the director must, if requested by an employer who has received notice of any intended secondary strike, appoint a commissioner to attempt to resolve any dispute, between the employer and the party who gave the notice, through conciliation.
- 12) A request to appoint a commissioner or the appointment of a commissioner in terms of paragraph (a) does not affect the right of employees to strike on the expiry of the 14-day period.
- 13) If an employer does not comply with a fair procedure, a consulting party may approach the Labour Court by way of an application for an order-
 - a) compelling the employer to comply with a fair procedure;
 - b) interdicting or restraining the employer from dismissing an employee prior to complying with a fair procedure;
 - c) directing the employer to reinstate an employee until it has complied with a fair procedure;
 - d) make an award of compensation, if an order in terms of paragraphs (a) to (c) is not appropriate.
- 14) Subject to this section, the Labour Court may make any appropriate order referred to in section 158(1)(a).
- 15) An award of compensation made to an employee in terms of subsection (14) must comply with section 194.
- 16) The Labour Court may not make an order in respect of any matter concerning the disclosure of information in terms of section 189(4) that has been the subject of an arbitration award in terms of section 16.
- 17) An application in terms of subsection (13) must be brought not later than 30 days after the employer has given notice to terminate the employee's services or, if notice is not given, the date on which the employees are dismissed.
- 18) The Labour Court may, on good cause shown condone a failure to comply with the time limit mentioned in paragraph (a).
- 19) The Labour Court may not adjudicate a dispute about the procedural fairness of a dismissal based on the employer's operational requirements in any dispute referred to it in terms of section 191(5)(b)(ii).
- 20) In any dispute referred to the Labour Court in terms of section 191(5)(b)(ii) that concerns the dismissal of the number of employees specified in subsection (1), the Labour Court must find that the employee was dismissed for a fair reason if-
 - a) the dismissal was to give effect to a requirement based on the employer's economic, technological, structural or similar needs;
 - b) the dismissal was operationally justifiable on rational grounds;
 - c) there was a proper consideration of alternatives; and
 - d) selection criteria were fair and objective.
- 21) For the purposes of this section, an 'employer' in the public service is the executing authority of a national department, provincial administration, provincial department or organisational component contemplated in section 7(2) of the Public Service Act, 1994 (promulgated by Proclamation No. 103 of 1994).

Labour Relations Act, 1995
Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice
190. Date of dismissal

- 1) The date of dismissal is the earlier of-
 - a) the date on which the contract of employment terminated; or
 - b) the date on which the employee left the service of the employer.
- 2) Despite subsection (1)-
 - a) if an employer has offered to renew on less favourable terms, or has failed to renew, a fixed-term contract of employment, the date of dismissal is the date on which the employer offered the less favourable terms or the date the employer notified the employee of the intention not to renew the contract;
 - b) if the employer refused to allow an employee to resume work, the date of dismissal is the date on which the employer first refused to allow the employee to resume work;
 - c) if an employer refused to reinstate or re-employ the employee, the date of dismissal is the date on which the employer first refused to reinstate or re-employ that employee.

191. Disputes about unfair dismissals and unfair labour practices

referenced by :

See flow diagrams Nos. 10 , 11 , 12 and 13 in Schedule 4.

- 1)
 - a) If there is a dispute about the fairness of a dismissal, the dismissed employee may refer the dispute in writing within 30 days of the date of dismissal to-
 - i) a council, if the parties to the dispute fall within the registered scope of that council; or
 - ii) the Commission, if no council has jurisdiction.
 - b) A referral in terms of paragraph (a) must be made within-
 - i) 30 days of the date of a dismissal or, if it is a later date, within 30 days of the employer making a final decision to dismiss or uphold the dismissal;
 - ii) 90 days of the date of the act or omission which allegedly constitutes the unfair labour practice or, if it is a later date, within 90 days of the date on which the employee became aware of the act or occurrence.
- 2) If the employee shows good cause at any time, the council or the Commission may permit the employee to refer the dispute after the relevant time limit in subsection (1) has expired.
- 5A) Subject to subsections (1) and (2), an employee whose contract of employment is terminated by notice, may refer the dispute to the council or the Commission once the employee has received that notice.
- 3) The employee must satisfy the council or the Commission that a copy of the referral has been served on the employer.

- 4) The council or the Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 5) If a council or a commissioner has certified that the dispute remains unresolved, or if 30 days have expired since the council or the Commission received the referral and the dispute remains unresolved-
 - a) the council or the Commission must arbitrate the dispute at the request of the employee if-
 - i) the employee has alleged that the reason for dismissal is related to the employee's conduct or capacity, unless paragraph (b)(iii) applies;
 - ii) the employee has alleged that the reason for dismissal is that the employer made continued employment intolerable or the employer provided the employee with substantially less favourable conditions or circumstances at work after a transfer in terms of section 197 or 197A, unless the employee alleges that the contract of employment was terminated for a reason contemplated in section 187; or
 - iii) the employee does not know the reason for dismissal; or
 - iv) the dispute concerns an unfair labour practice.
 - b) the employee may refer the dispute to the Labour Court for adjudication if the employee has alleged that the reason for dismissal is-
 - i) automatically unfair;
 - ii) based on the employer's operational requirements;
 - iii) the employee 's participation in a strike that does not comply with the provisions of Chapter IV; or
 - iv) because the employee refused to join, was refused membership of or was expelled from a trade union party to a closed shop agreement.
- 5A) Despite any other provision in the Act, the council or Commission must commence the arbitration immediately after certifying that the dispute remains unresolved if the dispute concerns-
 - a) the dismissal of an employee for any reason relating to probation;
 - b) any unfair labour practice relating to probation;
 - c) any other dispute contemplated in subsection (5)(a) in respect of which no party has objected to the matter being dealt with in terms of this subsection.
- 6) Despite subsection (5)(a) or (5A), the director must refer the dispute to the Labour Court, if the director decides, on application by any party to the dispute, that to be appropriate after considering-
 - a) the reason for dismissal;
 - b) whether there are questions of law raised by the dispute;
 - c) the complexity of the dispute;
 - d) whether there are conflicting arbitration awards that need to be resolved;
 - e) the public interest.
- 7) When considering whether the dispute should be referred to the Labour Court, the director must give the parties to the dispute and the commissioner who attempted to conciliate the dispute, an opportunity to make representations.
- 8) The director must notify the parties of the decision and refer the dispute-
 - a) to the Commission for arbitration; or
 - b) to the Labour Court for adjudication.
 - c) The director's decision is final and binding.
- 9) No person may apply to any court of law to review the director's decision until the dispute has been arbitrated or adjudicated, as the case may be.

- 10)
 - a) The referral, in terms of subsection (5)(b), of a dispute to the Labour Court for adjudication, must be made within 90 days after the council or (as the case may be) the commissioner has certified that the dispute remains unresolved.
 - b) However, the Labour Court may condone non-observance of that timeframe on a good cause shown.
- 11) If an employee is dismissed by reason of the employer's operational requirements following a consultation procedure in terms of section 189 that applied to that employee only, the employee may elect to refer the dispute either to arbitration or to the Labour Court.
- 12)
 - a) An employee may refer a dispute concerning an alleged unfair labour practice to the Labour Court for adjudication if the employee has alleged that the employee has been subjected to an occupational detriment by the employer in contravention of section 3 of the Protected Disclosures Act, 2000, for having made a protected disclosure defined in that Act.
 - b) A referral in terms of paragraph (a) is deemed to be made in terms of subsection (5)(b).

193. Remedies for unfair dismissal and unfair labour practice

- 1) If the Labour Court or an arbitrator appointed in terms of this Act finds that a dismissal is unfair, the Court or the arbitrator may-
 - a) order the employer to reinstate the employee from any date not earlier than the date of dismissal;
 - b) order the employer to re-employ the employee, either in the work in which the employee was employed before the dismissal or in other reasonably suitable work on any terms and from any date not earlier than the date of dismissal; or
 - c) order the employer to pay compensation to the employee.
- 2) The Labour Court or the arbitrator must require the employer to reinstate or re-employ the employee unless-
 - a) the employee does not wish to be reinstated or re-employed;
 - b) the circumstances surrounding the dismissal are such that a continued employment relationship would be intolerable;

- c) it is not reasonably practicable for the employer to reinstate or re-employ the employee; or
 - d) the dismissal is unfair only because the employer did not follow a fair procedure.
- 3) If a dismissal is automatically unfair or, if a dismissal based on the employer's operational requirements is found to be unfair, the Labour Court in addition may make any other order that it considers appropriate in the circumstances. (The Court, for example, in the case of a dismissal that constitutes an act of discrimination may wish to issue an interdict obliging the employer to stop the discriminatory practice in addition to one of the other remedies it may grant.)
- 4) An arbitrator appointed in terms of this Act may determine any unfair labour practice dispute referred to the arbitrator, on terms that the arbitrator deems reasonable, which may include ordering reinstatement, re-employment or compensation

194. Limits on compensation

referenced by :

- 1) The compensation awarded to an employee whose dismissal is found to be unfair either because the employer did not prove that the reason for dismissal was a fair reason relating to the employee's conduct or capacity or the employer's operational requirements or the employer did not follow a fair procedure, or both, must be just and equitable in all the circumstances, but may not be more than the equivalent of 12 months' remuneration calculated at the employee's rate of remuneration on the date of dismissal.
- 2) [deleted by the Labour Relations Amendment Act, 2002]
- 3) The compensation awarded to an employee whose dismissal is automatically unfair must be just and equitable in all the circumstances, but not more than the equivalent of 24 months' remuneration calculated at the employee's rate of remuneration on the date of dismissal.
- 4) The compensation awarded to an employee in respect of an unfair labour practice must be just and equitable in all the circumstances, but not more than the equivalent of 12 months remuneration.

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

195. Compensation is in addition to any other amount

An order or award of compensation made in terms of this Chapter is in addition to, and not a substitute for, any other amount to which the employee is entitled in terms of any law, collective agreement or contract of employment.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice

196. Severance pay

referenced by :

- 1) An employer must pay an employee who is dismissed for reasons based on the employer's operational requirements severance pay equal to at least one week's remuneration for each completed year of continuous service with that employer, unless the employer has been exempted from the provisions of this subsection.
- 2) The Minister, after consulting NEDLAC and the Public Service Co-ordinating Bargaining Council, may vary the amount of severance pay in terms of subsection (1) by notice in the Government Gazette.
- 3) An employee who unreasonably refuses to accept the employer's offer of alternative employment with that employer or any other employer is not entitled to severance pay in terms of subsection (1).
- 4) The payment of severance pay in compliance with this section does not affect an employee's right to any other amount payable according to law.
- 5) An employer or a category of employers may apply to the Minister for exemption from the provisions of subsection (1) as if the application is one in terms of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act and the Minister may grant an exemption as if it were an exemption granted in terms of that Act.
- 6) If there is a dispute only about the entitlement to severance pay in terms of this section, the employee may refer the dispute in writing to-
 - a) a council, if the parties to the dispute fall within the registered scope of that council; or
 - b) the Commission, if no council has jurisdiction.
- 7) The employee who refers the dispute to the council or the Commission must satisfy it that a copy of the referral has been served on all the other parties to the dispute.
- 8) The council or the Commission must attempt to resolve the dispute through conciliation.
- 9) If the dispute remains unresolved, the employee may refer it to arbitration.
- 10) If the Labour Court is adjudicating a dispute about a dismissal based on the employer's operational requirements, the Court may inquire into and determine the amount of any severance pay to which the dismissed employee may be entitled and the Court may make an order directing the employer to pay that amount.

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice
197. Transfer of contract of employment

referenced by :

- 1) In this section and in section 197A-
 - a) 'business' includes the whole or a part of any business, trade, undertaking or service; and
 - b) 'transfer' means the transfer of a business by one employer ('the old employer') to another employer ('the new employer') as a going concern.

- 2) If a transfer of a business takes place, unless otherwise agreed in terms of subsection (6)-
 - a) the new employer is automatically substituted in the place of the old employer in respect of all contracts of employment in existence immediately before the date of transfer;
 - b) all the rights and obligations between the old employer and an employee at the time of the transfer continue in force as if they had been rights and obligations between the new employer and the employee;
 - c) anything done before the transfer by or in relation to the old employer, including the dismissal of an employee or the commission of an unfair labour practice or act of unfair discrimination, is considered to have been done by or in relation to the new employer; and
 - d) the transfer does not interrupt an employee's continuity of employment, and an employee's contract of employment continues with the new employer as if with the old employer.

- 3)
 - a) The new employer complies with subsection (2) if that employer employs transferred employees on terms and conditions that are on the whole not less favourable to the employees than those on which they were employed by the old employer.
 - b) Paragraph (a) does not apply to employees if any of their conditions of employment are determined by a collective agreement.

- 4) Subsection (2) does not prevent an employee from being transferred to a pension, provident, retirement or similar fund other than the fund to which the employee belonged prior to the transfer, if the criteria in section 14(1)(c) of the Pension Funds Act, 1956 (Act No. 24 of 1956), are satisfied.(3)

- 5)
 - a) For the purposes of this subsection, the collective agreements and arbitration awards referred to in paragraph (b) are agreements and awards that bound the old employer in respect of the employees to be transferred, immediately before the date of transfer.
 - b) Unless otherwise agreed in terms of subsection (6), the new employer is bound by-
 - i) any arbitration award made in terms of this Act, the common law or any other law;
 - ii) any collective agreement binding in terms of section 23; and
 - iii) any collective agreement binding in terms of section 32 unless a commissioner acting in terms of section 62 decides otherwise.

- 6)
 - a) An agreement contemplated in subsection (2) must be in writing and concluded between-
 - i) either the old employer, the new employer, or the old and new employers acting jointly, on the one hand; and
 - ii) the appropriate person or body referred to in section 189(1), on the other.
 - b) In any negotiations to conclude an agreement contemplated by paragraph (a), the employer or employers contemplated in subparagraph (i), must disclose to the person or body contemplated in subparagraph (ii), all relevant information that will allow it to engage effectively in the negotiations.
 - c) Section 16(4) to (14) applies, read with the changes required by the context, to the disclosure of information in terms of paragraph (b).

- 7) The old employer must-
 - a) agree with the new employer to a valuation as at the date of transfer of-
 - i) the leave pay accrued to the transferred employees of the old employer;
 - ii) the severance pay that would have been payable to the transferred employees of the old employer in the event of a dismissal by reason of the employer's operational requirements; and
 - iii) any other payments that have accrued to the transferred employees but have not been paid to employees of the old employer;
 - b) conclude a written agreement that specifies-
 - i) which employer is liable for paying any amount referred to in paragraph (a), and in the case of the apportionment of liability between them, the terms of that apportionment; and
 - ii) what provision has been made for any payment contemplated in paragraph (a) if any employee becomes entitled to receive a payment;
 - c) disclose the terms of the agreement contemplated in paragraph (b) to each employee who after the transfer becomes employed by the new employer; and
 - d) take any other measure that may be reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that adequate provision is made for any obligation on the new employer that may arise in terms of paragraph (a).

- 8) For a period of 12 months after the date of the transfer, the old employer is jointly and severally liable with the new employer to any employee who becomes entitled to receive a payment contemplated in subsection (7)(a) as a result of the employee's dismissal for a reason relating to the employer's operational requirements or the employer's liquidation or sequestration, unless the old employer is able to show that it has complied with the provisions of this section.

- 9) The old and new employer are jointly and severally liable in respect of any claim concerning any term or condition of employment that arose prior to the transfer.

- 10) This section does not affect the liability of any person to be prosecuted for, convicted of, and sentenced for, any offence.

Chapter VIII: Unfair Dismissal and Unfair Labour Practice
197A. Transfer of contract of employment in circumstances of insolvency

referenced by :

- 1) This section applies to a transfer of a business-
 - a) if the old employer is insolvent; or
 - b) if a scheme of arrangement or compromise is being entered into to avoid winding-up or sequestration for reasons of insolvency.

- 2) Despite the Insolvency Act, 1936 (Act No. 24 of 1936), if a transfer of a business takes place in the circumstances contemplated in subsection (1), unless otherwise agreed in terms of section 197(6)-
 - a) the new employer is automatically substituted in the place of the old employer in all contracts of employment in existence immediately before the old employer's provisional winding-up or sequestration;
 - b) all the rights and obligations between the old employer and each employee at the time of the transfer remain rights and obligations between the old employer and each employee;
 - c) anything done before the transfer by the old employer in respect of each employee is considered to have been done by the old employer;
 - d) the transfer does not interrupt the employee's continuity of employment and the employee's contract of employment continues with the new employer as if with the old employer.

- 3) Section 197(3), (4), (5) and (10) applies to a transfer in terms of this section and any reference to an agreement in that section must be read as a reference to an agreement contemplated in section 197(6).

- 4) Section 197(5) applies to a collective agreement or arbitration binding on the employer immediately before the employer's provisional winding-up or sequestration.

- 5) Section 197(7), (8) and (9) does not apply to a transfer in accordance with this section.

197B. Disclosure of information concerning insolvency

- 1) An employer that is facing financial difficulties that may reasonably result in the winding-up or sequestration of the employer, must advise a consulting party contemplated in section 189 (1).

 - a) An employer that applies to be wound up or sequestrated, whether in terms of the Insolvency Act, 1936, or any other law, must at the time of making application, provide a consulting party contemplated in section 189 (1) with a copy of the application.

- b) An employer that receives an application for its winding-up or sequestration must supply a copy of the application to any consulting party contemplated in section 189(1), within two days of receipt, or if the proceedings are urgent, within 12 hours.

Chapter IX: General Provisions
198. Temporary Employment Services

- 1) In this section, "temporary employment service" means any person who, for reward, procures for or provides to a client other persons-
 - a) who render services to, or perform work for, the client; and
 - b) who are remunerated by the temporary employment service.
- 2) For the purposes of this Act, a person whose services have been procured for or provided to a client by a temporary employment service is the employee of that temporary employment service, and the temporary employment service is that person's employer.
- 3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), a person who is an independent contractor is not an employee of a temporary employment service, nor is the temporary employment service the employer of that person.
- 4) The temporary employment service and the client are jointly and severally liable if the temporary employment service, in respect of any of its employees, contravenes-
 - a) a collective agreement concluded in a bargaining council that regulates terms and conditions of employment;
 - b) a binding arbitration award that regulates terms and conditions of employment;
 - c) the Basic Conditions of Employment Act; or
 - d) a determination made in terms of the Wage Act.
- 5) Two or more bargaining councils may agree to bind the following persons, if they fall within the combined registered scope of those bargaining councils, to a collective agreement concluded in any one of them-
 - a) temporary employment service;
 - b) a person employed by a temporary employment service; and
 - c) a temporary employment service client.
- 6) An agreement concluded in terms of subsection (5) is binding only if the collective agreement has been extended to non-parties within the registered scope of the bargaining council.
- 7) Two or more bargaining councils may agree to bind the following persons, who fall within their combined registered scope, to a collective agreement-
 - a) temporary employment service;
 - b) a person employed by a temporary employment service; and
 - c) a temporary employment service's client.
- 8) An agreement concluded in terms of subsection (7) is binding only if-
 - a) each of the contracting bargaining councils has requested the Minister to extend the agreement to non-parties falling within its registered scope;

- b) the Minister is satisfied that the terms of the agreement are not substantially more onerous than those prevailing in the corresponding collective agreements concluded in the bargaining councils; and
- c) the Minister, by notice in the Government Gazette, has extended the agreement as requested by all the bargaining councils that are parties to the agreement.

200. Representation of employees or employers

- 1) A registered trade union or registered employers' organization may act in any one or more of the following capacities in any dispute to which any of its members is a party-
 - a) in its own interest;
 - b) on behalf of any of its members;
 - c) in the interest of any of its members.
- 2) A registered trade union or a registered employers' organisation is entitled to be a party to any proceedings in terms of this Act if one or more of its members is a party to those proceedings.

Labour Relations Act, 1995

Chapter IX: General Provisions

200A. Presumption as to who is employee

- 1) Until the contrary is proved, a person who works for, or renders services to, any other person is presumed, regardless of the form of the contract, to be an employee, if any one or more of the following factors are present:
 - a) the manner in which the person works is subject to the control or direction of another person;
 - b) the person's hours of work are subject to the control or direction of another person;
 - c) in the case of a person who works for an organisation, the person forms part of that organisation;

- d) the person has worked for that other person for an average of at least 40 hours per month over the last three months;
 - e) the person is economically dependent on the other person for whom he or she works or renders services;
 - f) the person is provided with tools of trade or work equipment by the other person; or
 - g) the person only works for or renders services to one person.
- 2) Subsection (1) does not apply to any person who earns in excess of the amount determined by the Minister in terms of section 6(3) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act.
- 3) If a proposed or existing work arrangement involves persons who earn amounts equal to or below the amounts determined by the Minister in terms of section 6(3) of the Basic Conditions of Employment Act, any of the contracting parties may approach the Commission for an advisory award on whether the persons involved in the arrangement are employees.
- 4) NEDLAC must prepare and issue a Code of Good Practice that sets out guidelines for determining whether persons, including those who earn in excess of the amount determined in subsection (2) are employees.
